OKLAHOMA WAS STIRRED

Congressman Miller Says State Is Viciously Interested in Indian Probe.

Work Not Completed But Will Be Finished in Washington.

Congressman C. B. Miller returned yesterday from Oklahoma, where he has been as a member of the congressional committee investigating the charges of bribery in connection with Indian land sale contracts. He is his own breezy, genial self, optimistic as to his own political future and cheerfully pleased with the work in general.

"The investigation carried on by the congressional committee started Oklahoma from end to end," said Mr. Miller. "On every hand the most intense interest was shown in the progress of the inquiry and we were called upon to hear the views of the most prominent men in the state concerning the subjects of our investigation."

"We have not finished our work, but no more sessions will be held for some time, probably not until we meet in Washington."

"There are two main features of the investigation. First came the charges of bribery made by Senator Gore in relation to contracts made by the Indians with an attorney for the purpose of disposing of certain lands, the property of members of the Choctaw and Chickasaw nations. The second main feature was a general survey of the contractual relations between Osage Indians, Indians of the five civilized tribes and attorneys."

"These contracts covered a period of many years and involved the entire property rights of more than 100,000 Indians. As is well known, these Indians possess wealth of almost fabulous value."

"On both these branches the investigation was exceedingly vigorous and exhaustive. That part of the work relating to the contracts made by the Indians with an attorney for the purpose of disposing of certain lands, the property of members of the Choctaw and Chickasaw nations, the committee visited all parts of the Indian country and discovered material of the greatest importance."

"I do not think any governmental committee ever made such a thorough investigation and performed an equal amount of work in the same length of time. Undoubtedly the entire length of the investigation was a record for the future."

"It is the first time in the history of the country that a thorough and first-hand inquiry has been made into the life, property rights and wishes of a considerable portion of the Indian people."

"Personally, I feel a reasonable degree of pride in the results coming from the second and final affair part of the investigation. The committee, when the resolution was offered in the house, was met with a hostile reception. Investigation in regard to the attempted bribery of Senator Gore it was at my suggestion that the committee be continued without letup all the members of the committee find themselves pretty thoroughly tired out."

"There will be some further work to be done in a few weeks but the committee is taking a recess for the present."

"Our committee consisted of three Republicans and two Democrats and I am glad to say that no attempt was made to bring about a party line in the part of the members was made to play politics. The committee was a business committee and worked relentlessly to secure the facts, no matter who was hit or what the effect."

"The climatic conditions of that region at this period of the year are extremely exhausting and as the work continued without letup all the members of the committee find themselves pretty thoroughly tired out."

CONTRACTS AWARDED

Board of Public Works Determines Lowest Bids on Improvements.

Will Report to City Council on Paving and Sewer Work.

The board of public works this morning awarded contracts for improvements costing approximately $50,000 and will report to the city council tonight on sewer jobs estimated at $16,000.

The contract for paving Irving Place, Seventh street and Clover street with granite blocks was awarded to John A. Johnson. His bid was $27,033.45. Granite has been used in the city for a long time and is a cement block preparation and has a neat and attractive appearance.

McDonnell was awarded the contract for paving Eleventh avenue east with asphalt. His bid was $9,570.90. A large delegation of property owners appeared before the board this morning to urge the laying of asphalt on this avenue. They stated that they wanted a better paving than it had been thought originally worth the cost.

The award is subject to the approval of the council and is possible that other property owners will appear this evening to protest.

WILL DISCUSS WOODLAND SEWER

Council May Have Experts Pass on Question of Contamination.

The city council this evening is expected to take up the Woodland sewer proposition, which was laid before the aldermen last Tuesday night by the property owners. They stated that there is a question as to whether or not the large amount of sewage which would be pumped into the lake would contaminate the city's water supply. It was suggested that the best experts obtainable be brought here to pass upon the problem.

The matter is extremely important and it is certain that the council will go into the matter thoroughly. One suggestion has been made that a large tank be constructed near the outlet. They have proved a success in many instances and if they could be used here they would prevent contamination of the water.

The sewer when completed will be the biggest ever built in this city. The estimated cost is $135,000. It will take the sewage from a wide territory and run from Woodland to the lake by a devious route.

BREAD WITHOUT FLOUR

Chicago Tribune: Parisian bread is made without flour in a machine that transforms the wheat into dough. The machine consists mainly of a large screw turning slowly in a case on whose inner surface is a screw thread running in an opposite direction. Between the main threads on the cylinder are smaller threads, and the depth of the groove grows progressively smaller from one end to the other, so that it will hold the entire wheat grain paste.

The wheat is prepared by a thorough washing, after which about a pint of tepid water and a pound of yeast is added, and the whole is allowed to stand about six hours.

TAFT LAUDS PAYNE LAW

ter to the Republican Campaign Leader Is Made Public.

Says Coming Fight Must Be to Clear Away the Clouds.

New York, Aug. 29.—President Taft's letter to W. H. McKinley, chairman of the Republican congressional committee, was made public last night by the New York headquarters of the committee. The president, in the communication, says that differences between Republicans should be forgotten in the congressional election, and that "all Republicans who believe in the party principles as declared in its national platform of 1908, should give the candidates loyal and effective support. If this is done there will be no doubt of a return of a Republican majority."

It seems to me that all Republicans—conservative, progressive and radical—may well unite in support of the tariff until evidence now being accumulated shall justify changes in the rates. Mr. Taft's plan for revision by congress of individual schedules after investigation by the tariff commission, is discussed in this connection.

"Clear Away Clouds." The president reviews the more important legislation enacted by congress, in fulfillment of promises, and says: "It is of the utmost importance to make this a campaign of education as to facts and clear away the clouds of misrepresentation that have obscured the real issues."

Referring specifically to the Payne law, the letter says: "The Payne tariff bill is the first bill passed by the Republican party in which the necessity for reducing rates to avoid this evil (tempting manufacturers to the formation of monopolies) has been recognized, and it is, therefore, a decided step in the right direction as such. On the whole, it was a downward revision, particularly on articles of necessity, and on raw materials. The actual figures on the first year's operation of the law demonstrate that the tariff rates in the new law on imported liquors, wines and silks were increased substantially over the Payne rates, because these were luxuries and it was intended to increase the revenue."

Not Cause of High Prices. "The charge that the present tariff is responsible for the increase in the prices of necessities is demonstrably false, because the high prices, with very few exceptions, affect articles in the tariff upon which there was no increase in rates or in respect to which there was a substantial reduction."

"Perhaps more important than any one feature of the operative part of the tariff law is that section which enables the executive to appoint a tariff commission. Of course, this work, either on the entire tariff or on any of the schedules, in respect to which issue has arisen, and the work of the commission shows that the present tariff is wrong and should be changed. I expect to bring the matter to the attention of the congress, with a view to its amendment of the tariff in this particular. Of course, this will be impracticable unless congress itself shall adopt the parliamentary rule, as I hope it will, to amend one section of the tariff may not be subject to a motion to amend by adding changes in other schedules."

Take Up Single Schedules. "It will thus be possible to take up a single schedule with respect to which it is probable that a great majority of each house will be unprejudiced, to admit the evidence, and to reach a fair conclusion. For these reasons it seems to me that all Republicans—conservative, progressive and radical—may well unite in support of the tariff until evidence now being accumulated shall justify changes in the rates, and that it is much better for them to vote for Republicans than to vote for Democrats, who have been acting as agents of the tariff commission, which would be utterly at war with the protective principle, and therefore would have no use for the findings of the tariff commission, as we may certainly infer from the solid Democratic vote in the present congress against the necessary appropriation for the commission's work."

Virtue of New Tariff Law. "One great virtue in the new tariff law, including the corporation tax, is that taken with the current effort of the administration to keep down or reduce governmental expenditures, it has, by its revenue-producing capacity, changed a deficit in the ordinary operations of the government of $55,000,000 for the year ending June 30, 1910, to a surplus in the first full year of the law, ending Aug. 3, 1910, of $25,000,000. From a revenue standpoint, then, there can be no controversy over the effectiveness of the new law. Generally speaking, a full measure of industrial activity in production, transportation and distribution has accompanied the operation of the new law."

Again, the present law in its corporation tax imposes a new kind of tax, which has many of the merits of an income tax. It is one of the most useful and important changes in our revenue laws, and the future will show in spite of the criticisms heaped upon it at its passage, no party responsible for its passage, no party anxious to retain every means of legitimate supervision of corporations, will repeal it."

GOVERNOR'S PARTY BACK

Gopher Returns From Isle Royale With Chief Executive Aboard.

All Report Enjoyable Outing --Governor Goes to St. Paul.

Governor A. O. Eberhart and staff, with their wives, reached the city this morning on the U. S. S. Gopher from Isle Royale, enthusiastic in their appreciation of the good time they have had since leaving the Head of the Lakes a week ago Saturday evening. Governor Eberhart did not tarry in the city, but proceeded to St. Paul on an early train, the other members of the party remaining here until this afternoon.

Mrs. Eberhart, when seen at the St. Louis Hotel, said she had enjoyed the outing very much and Mrs. David Wallblom, whose husband is a member of the staff, concurred in the sentiment.

Maj. Gust Carlsson remarked that he didn't get sea sick on the trip, but others did, he said. The major refused to give names and details.

During the time he was at Isle Royale Governor Eberhart devoted some time each day to the preparation of his speech to be delivered at the opening of the national conservation congress in St. Paul next week. He considers that this gathering is one of the most important that a governor of Minnesota could be called upon to address and for that reason is giving to the preparation of his speech all the care and thought that is possible.

DIRECTORY OF AMUSEMENTS

WHERE TO GO TONIGHT.

ORPHEUM—Pierce Players in "Strongheart."
THEATRE—Advanced vaudeville.
BIJOU—New vaudeville bill.

STRONG BILL AT THE ORPHEUM

Clever Louise Meyers the Hit of Very Entertaining Program.

Another strong and attractive bill is the current week's offering to the patrons of the handsome and cozy Orpheum theater. Each act is entertaining, containing special merit in its particular line.

There is not a dull moment from the time the curtain rises on the opening number of the bill and as vaudeville is primarily to amuse, the second week of the new theater fully carries out the high standard set by the inaugural show.

The La Toy brothers, comedy acrobats, open the bill. They do much that is original and do it well. While the comedy is conventional in comedy acrobats, the La Toy brothers have brought generous "hands" from the large audience. The larger of the family has some comedy that is humorous, while little brother does the real heavy work of the act.

It might be said that Miss Louise Meyers was the hit of the show. This very clever and entertaining young woman is in "A Little of Everything" sketch of Myers, Warren and Lyon.

OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

WE ANNOUNCE OUR FIRST EXHIBITION OF FALL OUTERWEAR

Suits, Coats, Sweaters, Furs and Millinery.

An impressive showing. We extend a cordial welcome. Lookers will be as welcome as buyers.

"OUR TWIN PORT STORES"
1410 Tower Ave. 8 E. Superior St.
"The House Where Your Credit is Good."

Miss Mildred Warren and Bert Lyon also carry their share of the fun of the act, but to Miss Meyers must be accorded the honors of the show. Last evening, if applause is an indication of approval, she has a facial expression that would convince a mature maid of sackcloth severity. She can twist a comely countenance into an imitation of Sis Hopkins on a rampage. Miss Warren sings well, possessing a cultivated voice of very pleasing quality. Mr. Lyon also sings and plays and dances. Miss Meyers also dances and dances extremely well. Her comedy "got" the house and it pleaded for more.

Clarence Siegel and Anna Mathews do some musical mirth and also offer some serious and more ambitious efforts on the mandolin. Miss Mathews changes her costume three times during the course of the turn, which is worthy of mention, as the act is short. The imitations of humorous musical chairs, while Miss Mathews receives much enthusiastic approbation for her solo work.

William Stimm has been on the Orpheum seasons and those who have seen his "Flinder's Furnished Flat" act know that he improves, like wine, with repetition or age, just as you will. Mr. Stimm is assisted by Marguerite Lucier and "Mike" Eugene Robinson. In spots his act is a scream of unrestrained mirth. He spins quite a number of wall paper in his imitation of a paper hanger, who might have seen, while the amusing situations that grow out of the entrance of the happy little into the room, which is worthy of mention in their laugh-provoking quality.

Mrs. Lucier and Mr. Stimm also do a burlesque on grand opera that is satirical enough to be humorous in the extreme.

Nellie Brewster is featured with Gus Edwards' Night Birds, which, if the leading lady of last week's bill, is an ambitious vaudeville offering. In addition to the six young men and six young women in the act, there are also some humorous imitations being introduced.

The telephone song brings a song response from the six young men, scattered in different parts of the audience. Miss Brewster singing through a telephone, while the amusing situations that grow out of the entrance of the happy little into the room, which is worthy of mention in their laugh-provoking quality.

Leona Thurber and Harry Modison really have some very funny stuff in their "On a Shopping Tour" act. They do a little singing, a little dancing and also some humorous imitations. There are also some humorous imitations. Miss Thurber's take off of an old maid, was quite delicious.

The last place on the program, the work of the Great Asahi stands out, clear cut and quite novel. The illustrations performed by this little brown son of the Mikado baffle all attempts at solution.

He performs a tied-thumb trick on the stage, passing his tied thumbs under the audience and performs the trick before the eyes of the man who tied the thumbs together.

His trick of making water spurt fountain-like, from a glass, like an umbrella in every conceivable way, even opening and shutting it with his feet, is a new and original feature.

The kinodrome pictures close the bill, the pictures offered the present week are of a highly amusing nature, and furnish many laughs.

"THE FLOWER OF THE RANCH"

Joe Howard's Musical Play Pleases Audience at the Lyceum.

Tuneful, pleasing to look at, and as interesting in its story as any musical play usually is, "The Flower of the Ranch" entertained a satisfied audience at the Lyceum last evening. "The Flower of the Ranch" is from the pen of Joe Howard and in its first season appeared in it and made a decided hit. John E. Frank was Mr. Howard's acceptable substitute last evening as back of the curtain, the leading man of the cast.

The play tells a Western story, as indicated by its title. This story is a pleasing one, if somewhat tedious, and the play made a decided good impression on the audience last evening.

Nellie Waters is the "flower" and a very attractive one. While the play is mostly notable for its music and setting, Miss Waters has opportunities to show histrionic talent and she makes the best of them. Robert Saburn carried the dignities of the sheriff's office becomingly and Jess Harris kept the audience in a state of surprised amusement most of the time. Miss Debel Nordendorf as the school teacher was charming.

The play is an entertaining one and has demonstrated in the past year or two that it "wears well." Mr. Howard's talents as a writer of dramatic and musical work are well known and recognized everywhere and "The Flower of the Ranch" is being received now as a product for which no apology is needed.

"STRONGHEART" AT THE LYCEUM.

The Pierce Players, who have more than made good with Duluthians by their performance of "The Star Man" last week, will no doubt further endeavor themselves to local theatergoers tonight by their presentation of William C. De Mille's great play of college life, "Strongheart," in which Robert Edwards, Strongheart, the son of a chief, who through his prowess on the football field has become a hero to his classmates. His love for the sister of his chum forms the motive for the play, and his innate nobility wins the girl's heart in return, so that she is willing to leave all and go with him to the West.

At a critical moment Strongheart arrives, telling of his adventures in the West, and commanding Strongheart to return and take the old chief's place among his people. The Indian student agrees to do this on condition that he may take his white sweetheart along with him, but this his Indian friends will not be ruled over by a white prince, and Strongheart, torn between his duty and his love, decides to go alone. The original scenic production is being aided by a finished performance of this delightful drama is assured. William Jossey and Miss Blanche Douglas will play the principal roles surrounded by the excellent company that H. E. Pierce & Co. have secured. Starting Thursday evening and for the balance of the week "At the White Horse Tavern" will be the attraction by special arrangement with Charles Frohman. It is said to be one of the most amusing farces ever adapted from the German.

BILLY VAN VISITS OLDS FRIENDS HERE.

Billie Van, the minstrel, arrived in Duluth yesterday, coming up from Chicago to fill his engagement this week at the Elton.

He enjoyed an automobile ride about town as the guest of Manager Mattie Miller, and later expressed his admiration for the city. He is expected to stay at the Elton. Mr. Van is in the back of the memory of the quarrel here between Primrose and West over his salary. Primrose wanted to cut expenses and let Van out, but would not allow him to leave after they separated and the William H. West minstrel troupe was organized. The company was a large one and toured with great success until the death of Mr. West.

SPEAKS OF NOTE FROM VATICAN

Paris, Aug. 29.—A special to the Figaro from San Sebastian quotes General, a Spanish minister of foreign affairs, as saying that the Vatican's note, which will be formally considered by the cabinet at Madrid this morning, does not insist on the government's withdrawal of the "padlock bill" as a condition precedent to the resumption of negotiations. The bill prohibits the creation of further religious establishments until the revision of the concordat has been completed or a definite law on the subject has been passed.

WANTS SON TO "COME HOME"

Pathetic Letter to Jackson McPherson From Aged Father.

Prisoner Is a Mystery to Officials at County Jail.

A pathetic letter that is more pathetic when all the circumstances of the case are known, has been received by Jackson McPherson, confined at the county jail for the murder of Otto Frey, from his father, now an old man who lives at St. Paul. The letter states that he (the father) is now all alone in the world and that his dearest wish is that Jackson come home, he is a good boy and make the last days of his aged parent restful and happy.

He goes on to state that all the others are dead and gone, and that there is now nothing left while in life for him. He says he has enough of this world's goods so that they may be comfortable and ends with a pathetic plea to his son to return to Scottish soil and stay with him until the end.

McPherson's father is now a very old man. His sight has failed until he can hardly distinguish objects unless they are held very close to him. He does not know of the trouble his son is in, and McPherson will try to keep it from him.

McPherson has other friends in the old country from whom he expects to get enough money to carry his case to the supreme court. If he should get out he says he would lose no time in getting back to Scotland.

The main puzzle the jailers at the county institution. They think he has been in some trouble of the same nature before. They say that in certain that he has done time in jail, for he was acquainted with the rules before he entered the institution. The jailers say that McPherson probably is the man at all. Letters have come from Scotland to "James Smith" and other names. McPherson has refused to take them, however.

He acts strangely and at times seems to be laboring under the strain of a great emotion. At other times he will be as gay as a lark and will be much in his life that is not known to him. McPherson evidently does not want it known.

McPherson seems to think that all he needs is the money with which to carry the case to the supreme court, and that he is ready to do so. He watches every mail in the hope that it will bring the money.

The jailers believe that he is a man of great energy and that he is capable of writing. He says that he believes he could have been a successful author and wishes he had started at it a long time ago.

MARINE LAKE TRIPS ARE POPULAR

Freighters Have Carried More Passengers Than Ever During Present Season.

In spite of the fact that the vessel companies have been losing money, the number of passengers on the carriers, more people have been carried during the present season than ever before.

Many parties have been waiting since early in the spring for their chance and as long as the boats run they will have passengers and then there will be many who will be disappointed.

The offices have been flooded with letters asking for tickets. Indeed, as one navigation season is over the applications begin to come in for the next. Early this spring the companies, in order to head off the hundreds of letters, have been making out a list of the names of the passengers in the summer, announced that they had accepted more passengers than they could carry.

Few people care about going down the lakes on a fast passenger boat after taking a trip on an ore carrier. The trip is longer and much more enjoyable, they say.

The Salora of the Tomlinson fleet was stranded at the St. Clair canal last Thursday. The vessel was quickly released and is at the present time on her way to this port. There was apparently very little damage.

NEVADA SAFE AT FORT WILLIAM

Report That Little Steamer Is Lost Proves Unfounded.

Reports that the steamer Nevada had been lost in the storm of last Thursday, which swept the northern shore of Lake Superior, were refuted by the telegram that has been received here from the office of the Canadian Lake Transportation company at Toronto, after taking a trip on an ore carrier. The trip is longer and much more enjoyable, they say.

The Nevada followed the Hamilton line to White Fish bay and was in shelter there for a time. It was in this manner that the ship was saved. The report had been lost to weather a storm that may have arisen on the lake going into the bay because of the large passenger list. It was believed that the steamer Nevada had failed to weather the gale. The report that a life boat had been discovered floating about in the vicinity of White Fish bay and the fact that the Nevada was delayed in arriving at Fort William tended to give substance to

IRON AND STEEL REVIEW

New York, Aug. 29.—A revival of some old inquiries for pig iron in the West and a few new inquiries for steel bars in the east last week were ac-corded by some furnaces and steel mills as harbingers of returning activity in the iron trade. Otherwise there were no new developments to indicate a turn in the tide of business.

The wire trade continued most ac-tive. New business this month has ex-ceeded the tonnage booked in July and next to August, 1907, the month will be the largest August in the history of American steel.

Other products are still very quiet. The American Bridge company has ob-tained the order from the New York Central for fabricated steel to be used in the southern

HAVE EYES ON NEW ENGLAND

Nation's Political Interests Come to Focus There Next Month.

Boston, Mass., Aug. 29.—The political attention of the country is being gradually focused on New England, where, early in September, the first measuring of strength between the Republican and Democratic parties in the state elections of 1910 is to take place. Vermont on Sept. 6 and Maine on Sept. 12 will select state officers and indicate their preferences for representatives in the sixty-second Congress. In each state there also will be chosen members of the legislature, who, in turn, will elect a member of the United States senate.

On the same day as the Vermont election, New Hampshire will hold her first state-wide primaries, the first under a direct primary law affecting an entire state to be held in the East. Massachusetts will hold primaries on Sept. 27, but the law in this state is optional and only the larger cities and a few towns make direct nominations.

Some State Conventions.
State conventions will be held in Connecticut in September and Massachusetts and Rhode Island in October. In each of the three state fall tickets for state officers will be named, and legislatures will be elected whose members, save in New Hampshire, will choose United States senators. The terms of Senators Carroll S. Page of Vermont, Eugene S. Hale of Maine, Henry Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts, Nelson W. Aldrich of Rhode Island and Morgan G. Bulkeley of Connecticut expire March 4, 1911. Mr. Hale and Mr. Aldrich have declined re-election.

In neither Vermont or Maine is any outward issue drawn between so-called "progressive" and "regular" Republicans.

S.S.S. AND BLOOD PURIFIER

There is one reason above all others which makes S. S. S. the greatest of all tonics, and that is because it is the greatest of all blood purifiers. It is made entirely of roots, herbs and barks, which possess not only strengthening properties, but at the same time the combination of botanical juices and extracts is the most potent of all medicines for removing every impurity, poison or taint from the blood circulation. S. S. S. improves the appetite and digestion, corrects stomach disturbances and steadily and surely tones and builds the system up to perfect health. It adds to the blood the rich, healthful properties it needs, and in every way enables the system to stand the strain of the long, hot summer months. S. S. RAILROADS AND CITIES

Mayor Crumpton Says There Is Not Proper Co-Operation Between Them.

Mayor Cullum and Bishop McGorick Also Talk to Railroaders.

Mayor Crumpton of Superior told the members of the Northern Railway club a few things about taxation of railroad property and the relation of the public to the railroads, at a meeting of the organization in the Commercial club rooms Saturday night.

He said that much railroad property escapes taxation, but he conceded that the method of taxation was not as modern as it should be. He added that the railroads generally tried to talk about improvement in the system of taxation. Railroads, he said, should have a greater inclination to co-operate with cities. There are cities without railroads, but there are no railroads without cities. "There is or should be at least a closer connection between railroads and cities," he said. "What we have is a railroad that is not a railroad, and a city that is not a city. The railroad can prosper without railroads, but the city cannot prosper without railroads. There are many prosperous and successful cities without railroads, but you never heard of a successful railroad that did not have many cities on its line and especially some good terminal cities."

Not Doing Their Share.
"Are railroads doing what they should to help cities be more prosperous?" In a majority of cases I don't think they are, and the reason of that is, the universal fact that all railroad managers are anxious to make a showing for their roads so that the dividends will be larger, profits greater, and record for themselves, many times this is at the expense of the community where they are located.

Train Hits Auto; TWO WOMEN KILLED

Wife and Sister of Syracuse Professor Dead—Other Motor Accidents.

Syracuse, N. Y., Aug. 29.—Mrs. Edgar A. Emens of this city, wife of Prof. Emens of Syracuse university, and Martha Emens of Fayetteville, a sister of Prof. Emens, were killed Sunday afternoon at Kaywood, thirty miles south of Geneva, when the fast Chicago-New York express on the Lehigh railroad crashed into the rear of their automobile while they were crossing the track.

The only other occupant of the car, Edwin Boyer, aged 22, of Buffalo, N. Y., was severely hurt. The automobile was recently presented to Dowling by his young wife, who is left with a baby girl.

Fires Gun in Vatican; WANTS TO BE MADE PRIEST.

Rome, Aug. 29.—A former Franciscan friar named Beltrami created a panic in the Basilica of the Vatican during vespers last evening by firing three shots from a revolver into the air. The worshippers fled from the church and the services were suspended. Beltrami, who was arrested, said that he desired to attract attention with a view of securing reinstatement to the priesthood.

The Kind You Have Always Bought.

THIS is the caution applied to the public announcement of Castoria that has been manufactured under the supervision of Chas. H. Fletcher for over 30 years—the genuine Castoria. We respectfully call the attention of fathers and mothers when purchasing Castoria to see that the wrapper bears his signature in black. When the wrapper is removed the same signature appears on both sides of the bottle in red. Parents who have used Castoria for their little ones in the past years need no warning against counterfeits and imitations, but our present duty is to call the attention of the younger generation to the great danger of introducing into their families spurious medicines.

It is to be regretted that there are people who are now engaged in the nefarious business of putting up and selling all sorts of substitutes, or what should more properly be termed counterfeits, for medicinal preparations not only for adults, but worse yet, for children's medicines. It therefore devolves on the mother to scrutinize closely what she gives her child. Adults can do that for themselves but the child has to rely on the mother's watchfulness.

Letters from Prominent Druggists addressed to Chas. H. Fletcher.

The Voegell Bros., of Minneapolis, Minn., say: "We wish to say that we have at all times a large demand for Fletcher's Castoria at all of our three stores and that it gives universal satisfaction to our trade."

Polk Miller Drug Co., of Richmond, Va., says: "Your Castoria is one of the most satisfactory preparations we have ever handled. It seems to satisfy completely the public demand for such an article and is steadily creating a growing sale by its merit."

P. A. Capdan, of New Orleans, La., says: "We handle every good home remedy demanded by the public and while our shelves are thoroughly equipped with the best of drugs and proprietary articles, there are few if any which have the unceasing sale that your Castoria has."

M. C. Dow, of Cincinnati, Ohio, says: "When people in increasing numbers purchase a remedy and continue buying it for years; when it passes the fad or experimental stage and becomes a household necessity, then it can be said its worth has been firmly established. We can and do gladly offer this kind of commendation to Fletcher's Castoria."

VISITS WITH THE FORMER MAYOR

William O. Pealer Says Henry Truelsen Is as Energetic as Ever.

William O. Pealer has returned from a trip to Zenith, N. D., the town in which ex-Mayor Truelsen is located. Mr. Pealer reports the crop conditions in the western part of Dakota much better than in the eastern section. He says that in the section about Zenith, the land will this year yield about fifteen bushels of wheat to the acre. There is a good crop of oats and a fair yield of flax. Prices are high and the crop as it stands will bring the farmers almost as much money as a much heavier crop would other years.

The Truelsen have about 190 acres in flax. Henry Truelsen, Jr., manages the farm. Steam plows and all other up to the minute farming machinery are used.

Mr. Pealer spent several days visiting the former mayor. He says Mr. Truelsen is looking well and is as energetic and active as he was in the old political days spent in Duluth.

Next Sunday evening will be "Rally Day" for the Epworth league, and with a view of materially increasing the membership, this concert was given to bring the members of the church and friends closer together. That it was successful was evidenced by the large audience present last night.

President Davenport of the Epworth league was master of ceremonies. The instrumental part of the program was given by Mr. Blewett, violin; Mr. Howell, clarinet, and Miss Florence Watt, organist.

(BY BRUCE)

Duluth and the boys of Schoonhoven's game broke even in a double-header yesterday, the Eau Claire being posed out in the first game, the score being 0 to 8 in favor of the local deliveries, while in the second baseball stanza the boys from "ome were beaten, don't you know, by a 6 to 1 score.

In the first game the Sox accumulated what looked like a commanding lead in the very first inning. But as the game showed, the home brigade had ample need for all the run rule up in the opener. Hughes showed anything but good form, being knocked with vengeance from the figurative pillar to the figurative post. He was relieved, and the work is rightly used, by Worman, the buttermaker going along like a steady old horse until the end of the game.

"Stu" Morrow led the bases in the first and then Col. Altematt, clouted the spheroid over the fence. Holstrom hit to left and went to second when the ball was handled with delay by Bailey. Kramer singled to left, scoring Holstrom, Cummings sacrificed the runner to second, a wild pitch sending him to third. Bouchard scored him with a single. Bouchard advanced on Hughes' infield hit, and scored when Danny Kitch passed Anderson's grounder. Kitch ended the run by grounding out.

In the second frame the Sox scored the remainder of their runs. O'Brien singled and Cummings walked. Holstrom committed baseball suicide for the glory on our side, both runners scoring on Kramer's single to center. Kramer was caught off first. Cummings grounded out.

Eau Claire gathered six life-sized runs in the fourth. Callahan started the confusion with a single. Bailey drew four that were not true in the least. Kidding struck out, and Nick Carter was pronounced "out" by the fielder hit forced Carter at second. Callahan stole the play. Benrud stole, the throw being wild and Bailey coming home. More's search hit sent Benrud to third. Benrud's hit sent Kitch's hit to center sent two runs across. Breyette hit a Texas leaguer out of the rear of O'Brien's head, scoring Kitch. Kitch scored a moment later, and also a tally, while Mike the brakeman was being run down between first and second.

Bailey hit one over the fence in the fifth, making the eighth run for the Schooners. That ended the scoring for the visitors, though in the ninth inning Callahan came near scoring on a hit to Worman. Callahan ran for the pen, being thrown out by the narrowest of margins.

Worman succeeded Hughes in the fifth, pitching good ball after that. This act led to his being led to the hit and turned loose in the second game. The logic of the thing slipped somewhere, for Worman proved rather easy for the leaders in single second game, thirteen hits being secured of the delivery of the sore-shouldered pitcher.

For the first three stanzas of the second game Worman breezed along very ladylike. In the fourth inning he was gathered. Breyette singled, was sacrificed by Callahan and scored on Bailey's single.

In the fifth the invaders chalked up two more. Worman pitched to right, scoring the midwest, and Callahan tripped to center, sending the brakeman home.

In the seventh Kitch tripped and was scored by Callahan's single. In the next round two errors and three hits sent two more runs across the plate. The only run of the Sox came in the fifth inning. In this one ray round Bouchard doubled. Anderson hit and Bouchard scored on a bad throw by Breyette.

Rochester comes this afternoon for a three-game series. It is very likely that the Sox will pass the Surgeons in the present series. It is the hope of the management that the home brigade will take all three of the games. Such an event would enable the Sox to climb out of last place.

The fact that the games will be for the small honor of climbing out of the cellar, should make them interesting.

IMMENSE COAL DOCK WILL BE ERECTED ON WEST DULUTH SITE

Carnegie Dock & Fuel Company Purchases Eighty Acre Tract. Duplicate of Mammoth New Dock in Superior to Be Erected. Improvement Will Entail Expenditure of Nearly $750,000.

The Carnegie Dock & Fuel company has purchased from the Lowry Holding company, through the John A. Stephenson agency, eighty acres of land on the bay front just to the east of the Zenith Furnace company's plant in West Duluth and will erect a coal dock to cost between $500,000 and $750,000, to be practically a duplication of the immense dock now nearing completion in St. Louis bay in Superior for the same company.

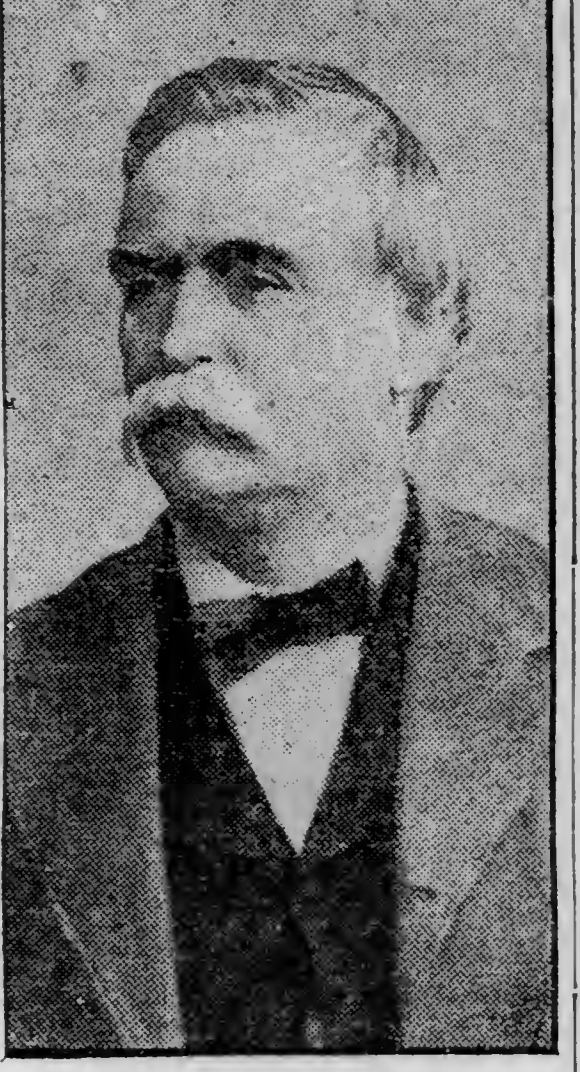

J. H. Sanford of Pittsburgh, vice president and general manager of the Carnegie Dock & Fuel company, which is a subsidiary of the former corporation, has been in Duluth for some time making arrangements for securing a distributing base on this side of the bay. He said this morning that the plans of the company are not definitely formed, but that a hard coal shed, costing about $100,000 and temporary unloading apparatus will probably be erected this fall and the construction of the main dock will begin as early as possible in the spring.

Eighty Acres Bought. The site purchased by the company consists of eighty acres, with a frontage of a quarter of a mile on the bay. About forty acres are submerged, the part of the other forty that was submerged having been filled with slag from the Zenith furnace. The tract is the last of the holdings of the Lowry estate, or the Lowry Holding company, on the bay front in West Duluth. Although Mr. Stephenson would not divulge the consideration involved in the deal, it is understood to have been in the neighborhood of $500,000. The bay front property is being rapidly taken up in West Duluth and the site is considered a valuable one. Connections with the Northern Pacific, Canadian Northern and range roads will be available.

The mammoth dock now nearing completion in Superior is the largest and most modern at the head of the Lakes and the new West Duluth dock will be a duplicate of that dock. It is said, with such other improvements as may seem desirable, that the dock will be built for the utilization of electric power to the best advantage, and the capacity will be great enough to insure handling with facility the immense amount of coal the company expects to distribute through the Northwest, with Duluth as the distributing center.

Is Distributing Company. The Carnegie Dock Company has been organized for many years and has extensive holdings in the Eastern coal fields. The Carnegie Dock & Fuel company, the distributing subsidiary of the Carnegie Dock company, was organized a little over a year ago. The contract for the new dock in Superior was let July 2, 1909, and the work was rushed through the winter, the dock now being very nearly completed.

J. Proctor Knott, celebrating his eightieth birthday anniversary at his home in Lebanon, Ky., yesterday, gave assurance that the town he made famous has not forgotten him, as the following messages will show: "J. Proctor Knott: "Duluth, with a population of $5,000 and with a $200,000 steel plant building, sends heartiest greetings to her best advertiser on his eightieth birthday. Won't you give us your opinion of us now that we have grown up?" "EDITOR HERALD."

"FRANK JORDAN, "President of the Common Council."

In answer to the above messages the following letter from J. M. Knott, his son, was received by The Herald today: "Editor Duluth Herald, "My Dear Sir: At the request of Governor J. TWO KILLED BY TORNADO

Heaton, N. D., Nearly Wiped Out By Wind Storm Monday Evening.

Two Elevators and Much Other Property Destroyed By Storm.

Heaton, N. D., Aug. 30.—(Special to The Herald).—A destructive tornado here last evening resulted in two fatalities, injuries to many people and almost wiped out the entire village. The dead: H. O. THORNTON, aged man. INFANT DAUGHTER of Albert Allison. The seriously injured: A. R. Hurlbert. There were dozens of others, painfully injured. Much Property Destroyed. The loss will exceed $100,000 and extended to farm property surrounding the village. The buildings that were totally destroyed in the hamlet are the Heaton State bank, the Farmer's State bank, the Monarch Elevator, the Lyons elevator, the Heaton Lumber company, a hardware store, Edward Banks' livery barn, the Congregational church and parsonage, the residences of John Trout, C. I. Turner, Albert Allison, Alfred Anderson and James Holdt.

Kansas Also Hit. Smith Center, Kan., Aug. 30.—A small tornado accompanied by a terrific hail storm laid waste an area of a mile wide and about ten miles long north of here last night. Houses and barns were lifted from their foundations. Outbuildings were wrecked. Trees were torn from their foliage and uprooted. So far as known, none were injured.

Conference Committee Will Have to Neglect Many Improvements.

No Chance for New Fire Halls—Extra Police Provided For.

The apportionment of the levy for 1911 began to assume shape at an important meeting of the conference committee at the office of Mayor Cullum yesterday afternoon, when the general needs of the city were discussed and the several department heads made specific recommendations. Featured above all else were the cramped powers of the conference committee because of the limit of $320,000 placed by the charter upon all funds except the interest sinking and fire department funds. Many improvements which seem absolutely necessary, will have to be left under the pruning knife of the committee because money cannot be levied to pay for them. The discussion showed that the full $320,000 will be levied; that probably 2 mills will be levied to create a fund for the paving of street intersections and the construction of storm sewers; that probably 1 mill will be levied for the appropriation of the fire department will be held down at least as low, and perhaps lower, than it has been, absolutely eliminating new halls and additional apparatus, and that the city engineer will be allowed $25,000 to $26,000 as compared with $21,000 for the present year. Little doubt remains but that the committee will make a levy for the purchase of a new, up to date rock crusher, which will be installed at the Point of Rocks. The city cannot afford to get along without it. Those present agreed that it would pay for itself in a few years, as the municipality can crush its own stone economically with a new plant and perhaps (Continued on page 14, fifth column.)

OSAWATOMIE ALL EXCITED

John Brown Anniversary and Coming of Roosevelt the Cause.

Place for Hero Sought in Hall of Fame—Ex-President Praised.

Osawatimie, Kan., Aug. 30.—Not since that time fifty-four years ago when John Brown's men withstood ten times their number of Missouri guerrillas in the woods at the edge of town, has Osawatimie been so excited. Today the celebration of that anniversary began. The town stretched itself and is holding thousands of visitors from all parts of the state. Perhaps twice today's crowd or at least 25,000 persons are expected here tomorrow at the second day of the celebration when Theodore Roosevelt will make the address dedicating to the state as a park the wooded hillside where the battle was fought. Statue in Hall of Fame. So much enthusiasm for John Brown has been awakened that a movement for a statue of the Western abolitionist in the hall of fame at Washington was started by resolution at the morning session. "From boulevards overlooking both Kansas. The statue of John Brown in the sun. With rugged lettering, 'John Brown of Kansas—He dared begin; he lost, but losing won.' This was the last stanza of a poem, 'John Brown,' by Eugene Ware, recited this morning at the celebration by Miss Bessie Yester. The prophetic inscription probably will be placed on the base of the statue. The resolution for the monument was presented by George P. Morehouse of Topeka and supported by Maj. J. R. Remington, whose wife is said to be related to John Brown. It asks the appointment of five old soldiers as a legislative (Continued on page 14, fourth column.)

Great Northern Chief Special Agent Shoots Would-Be Murderer.

C. P. Welsh, Discharged Employee, Killed While Seeking Revenge.

Hurls Explosive When Wounded—Has Figured in Duluth Shooting.

St. Paul, Minn., Aug. 30.—(Special to The Herald).—C. P. Welsh, a discharged employee of the department, was shot and killed this morning by Chief Special Agent Al G. Ray of the Great Northern Railroad company, in a revolver duel in the company's offices in this city. As he staggered wounded from the door of the office, Welsh hurled a pint bottle of nitro-glycerine to the floor, but the explosive failed to go off. Nine shots were fired in the fight, four of which took effect in Welsh's body. Mr. Ray was unharmed. Welsh, who was 40 years old, was discharged from the service of the Great Northern about two months ago for striking a man at Atkin, Minn., and since then has been heard to make threatening remarks regarding his former superior. Yesterday afternoon he met Special Officer John Lane of the Great Northern at the headquarters of the company in this city, and began to curse and revile Ray, saying he would "get him." Lane told Welsh to stop his talk, and Welsh then turned his inventive upon Lane, declaring he would "get" him too. Welsh called at Ray's office this morning before the chief was down and inquired for mail. On being told there was nothing for him, he asked Chief Clerk Hess to hold whatever came and said he would be back in a few minutes. He waited in the vicinity of the building until Ray had gone into the office, and then followed him. Immediately after opening the door, Welsh drew a revolver and began to shoot. He fired five shots in all, but every shot went wild. As Welsh staggered from the room he drew a pint bottle of nitro-glycerine, fitted with fuse and a percussion cap, from his pocket, and turning, hurled it to the floor. He fell immediately afterwards, and died almost instantly. Either the wound in the head or the nitro-glycerine was enough to have caused his death.

Would Have Wrecked Building. According to the local police, the charge of nitro-glycerine in the bottle was enough to have wrecked the entire half of the big Great Northern building in which the office is located. They say the only explanation they can find for its failure to explode is that it was wrapped around with heavy paper, presumably put around it to prevent a premature explosion in Welsh's pocket. Shot Box Car Burglar. C. P. Welsh came into the limelight in Duluth when he shot George Miller, the box car burglar, at Atkin the morning of June 4, while on duty as a special for the Great Northern Railroad company. Welsh claimed that he fired in self-defense, asserting that the burglar tried to kill him, creating a situation similar to the one in which he lost his own life this morning. He told the local police that Miller fired first at him as he fell to the ground after following him from the box car, and that as he recovered his balance he sent a bullet through Miller's body, the bullet lodging in the clothing on his back. Miller was taken to St. Luke's hospital, from which he escaped a surgical escape. Less than three weeks after he had been shot he slid from the second story window of the institution to the ground on a rope which he made by tearing the sheets of his bed. The police being unable even to obtain a clue as to his whereabouts, he was allowed to go on his own recognizance, and was never called to give any further explanation. No one witnessed the shooting and Miller refused repeatedly to give any version of the affair.

DRIVES FAMILY OUT WITH AN AX

Ohioan Then Barricades House and Shoots at His Neighbors.

Columbus, Ohio, Aug. 30.—Driving members of his family from their home with an ax and later arming himself with a shotgun, Clarence Polk, aged 35, who was released from the Columbus state hospital last spring, has terrorized the neighborhood in the vicinity of the Albany and is barricaded in the house today, defying the sheriff and a posse. He shot his neighbors last night but wounded no one. Members of the family were forced to spend the night in a haystack near the house.

The copper market opened strong and after an early advance value declined as selling of considerable proportions was made. The market was somewhat heavier than yesterday in consequence although compared with the usual run the advance was small. The close was lower than the opening by a fraction. Copper was not as weak as the other metals, which declined early on account of the strength of the dollar. Eastern professionals are not showing at crop shortage rumors any longer, but every time a rumor runs through the Eastern financial world, traders take a running jump on somebody or some policy that has the approval of Wall street and the market is disposed to go out of his way to boost prices. The present low levels of copper stocks and the fact that the public is keeping out of the market and the professionals are not disposed to start the ball rolling up hill at this time.

London was a moderate buyer but the rubber market was depressed and the close abroad was weaker than expected.

Copper exports have amounted to 25,000 tons since Aug. 1.

TERM TO BE VERY LIGHT

But 119 Cases on September Calendar Up to This Time.

Two Murder Trials Will Be Feature of the Criminal Court.

The September term of the district court will begin Wednesday, Sept. 7. There are thirty-four continued jury cases; twenty continued court cases; four continued divorce cases, and in all up to this time fifty-one new cases.

The term will be a short one as the October term opens on Oct. 5. Judge William A. Cant will be the presiding judge at this term and will hear a greater part of the divorce and criminal actions.

The grand jury will convene on Sept. 7, and the petit jury will report for work on Sept. 11.

So far as is known at this time, there will be but sixteen criminal actions. Some of the prisoners. It is stated, will plead guilty as soon as an indictment has been returned against them by the grand jury.

There are two murder cases. An endeavor will be made to have the grand jury return an indictment against Otto Frederick Brandt, who killed Emil Luck in a fight on Superior street, at an early hour, some weeks ago, after a dance in a down town hall.

Seraph Peters, who is accused of shooting John Hendrickson on board the steamer James Corrigan July 29, will probably have to stand trial.

The rest of the criminal calendar is made up chiefly of embezzlement, forgery, grand larceny and desertion cases. Everybody about the courthouse is glad the legislature meets this year.

The first thing that attorneys and county officials will try to have done, is to knock out several terms.

For two years there has been court nearly the whole year around. No sooner is one term over than work on a new calendar is begun. There is not work for all the terms and the longer terms drag along with the "nothing doing" sign hung out a greater part of the time. There is the calling of the extra grand jury several times each year. This all costs money and the county pays it.

It is said that the range and Duluth terms were confused when the bill went through and that state representatives did not really mean to give the local men such a dose of court sessions.

For two years they have held court in hot weather and in cold. No one wishes the legislature to meet and get busy on this any more than the clerks at the courthouse as it means much more trouble over the work that can be done with fewer sessions of court.

Sheriff Takes Possession of Great Lakes Radio Telephone Tower.

Sheriff Bates today attached the buildings and tower of the Great Lakes Radio Telegraph & Telephone company for the French & Basset company on a bill of $100.

The company came here some months ago, and attracted no little attention at the time.

They erected the tallest tower in the city, furnished an office, installed some of the instruments, and were about to begin work, when those in charge left the city and have not been heard from since.

They have never been known to send a message.

LOCATED BY NEWSPAPER ITEM

Daniel Ross Will Write Sister After Thirty-three Years.

Through a notice in The Herald last evening that he was being sought by his sister, Daniel Ross was located today. He walked into the police station this morning and told the officers that he had not seen his sister, now Mrs. Charles Hazelton of East Boston, Mass., for thirty-three years. He is a woodsman and merely happened into the city yesterday after an absence of a year. One of his acquaintances on the Bowery saw him and told him about it. He announced his intention of getting some one to write to her for him immediately, as he stated that he could not do so himself.

NEGRO SOLDIER MURDERS TWO

Is Himself Fatally Wounded While Trying to Escape.

Utica, N. Y., Aug. 30.—Private Perry McGee of Troop L, Tenth United States cavalry, who shot and killed Private Turner of Company B, Twenty-fourth regiment, and Corporal Jones of Company C of the Twenty-fourth, at Great Bend, near Watertown, last night, was captured at Boonville, twenty-five miles north of here today.

In a running fight with civil officers before he gave up he was probably fatally shot.

McGee and his victims are negroes.

YOUNG WOMAN'S ACTIONS QUEER

The police are puzzled as to what disposition to make of Anna Erickson, 23 years of age, who was brought to the police station last night from Twenty-fourth street east and Fourth street, where she has been employed as a domestic.

Her actions are strange and they do not know whether they are those of an insane person or not. She claimed that she had taken some whisky and quinine for a cold, but the effects could not be seen as she does. She will not stand up and if an effort is made to lift her she lets herself go as a dead weight.

Her sister came to see her today and she refused to talk to her. Her sister was called and will examine her today.

RAINS ON THE DEMOCRATS.

Light Vote Expected in South Carolina Primaries.

Columbia, S. C., Aug. 30.—Predictions of general rain throughout the state indicate a light vote in the Democratic primary election today, despite the fact that the state has just been through one of the hottest campaigns in its history, with the issue clearly defined as between state-wide prohibition and the local option law under which twenty-seven of forty-three counties of the state now have prohibition. Polls opened at 8 o'clock this morning and close at 4 o'clock this afternoon, except in Charleston.

SNEERS AT TREATY OF JAPS AND KOREA

Russian Paper Publishes Bitter, Sarcastic Comment on It.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 30.—The text of the treaty by which the Korean kingdom was annexed to the empire of Japan was published here today and in the case of the Novoye Vremya was accompanied by a bitter, sarcastic editorial in which Korea is likened to an oyster, which, about to be swallowed by the Korean people, is squeezed by the Russian government.

The document, the paper says, constitutes "an historical example of the judicial importance of the treaty in the eyes of the Russian people."

The judicial importance of the treaty is less, says the paper, but at gross variance with the publicity heretofore given to Korean affairs, earlier reports having pictured Korea as flourishing under Japanese rule.

Will Make no Protest.

The sole document of importance in the official exchanges is the declaration whereby the consular courts are abolished and the customs and the coasting trade rights made subject to abolition after ten years.

The Novoye Vremya adds that Russian interests in the Korean kingdom are insignificant and for that reason Russian diplomacy will not raise its voice in protest.

The United States and Great Britain have been hard hit, in the opinion of the editor, who says, however, that war is the sole means of annulling an accomplished fact the situation will be accepted as a fait accompli.

The officer stated that he did not think the boy had any deliberate intention of shooting anyone, but that he appeared irresponsible. The bullet he fired at the street car went through the roof. The police stated that they will make a further investigation of the case.

CLAIM WOMAN IS BIG SMUGGLER

Mrs. Adriance of Poughkeepsie Accused of Bringing in $115,000 in Gems.

New York, Aug. 30.—Although charged specifically with smuggling into this country a pearl necklace, a gold purse and a lace mantle, valued at $8,000, Mrs. Reynolds Adriance of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., must explain where she bought other jewelry valued at more than $100,000, before she is out of the customs net here. According to a statement made at Collector Loeb's office, jewels with a total valuation of $115,000 were found in the woman's possession and seized, while from her daughter, Marion, a $3,000 pearl necklace was confiscated and a third necklace was taken from Mrs. H. Doughty, a traveling companion.

Other Seizures Made.

Two other seizures were made by customs officials yesterday. Albert Stuart, a jeweler of Warren City, Iowa, who arrived on the steamer Nordam, failed to declare anything, but customs inspectors found in his possession a handbag containing a lot of inexpensive jewelry. It will be held until the duty is paid.

When Adolph G. Allier, a business man of Peoria, Ill., arrived on the steamer Kaiser Auguste Victoria, with his wife, a false bottom trunk was found in the possession with a quantity of curtains, table covers, pocket knives, a silk waist, cutlery and silverware concealed therein. The goods were seized.

Sunday morning of an attack of pneumonia. The deceased was born in Sweden, Brainerd, Minn., Nov. 26, 1840, and spent his early life farming and sheepherding. He served four years in the German army and saw active service in the bloody wars of 1866 and 1870. He was awarded the Iron Cross for his bravery in an engagement. He resided thirty years in Brainerd, working during that time for the Northern Pacific railway, the last four years as a flagman. He leaves three children by his second marriage. As an instance of his devotion may be mentioned the fact that he always carried his Bible with him and always studied it when he had opportunity.

Mr. Stephenson was pained exceedingly to see that in advertising its route for travel east from Winnipeg, the Northwestern railway does not mention Duluth, but advertises only its route through the Twin Cities. He will urge the Commercial club to get in touch with the officials of the Northwestern and to that Duluth may have its due in such advertising. The route from Winnipeg to Chicago, via Duluth, is shorter and more direct than that via the Twin Cities, and Mr. Stephenson believes the Northwestern should advertise that route in preference to the one through the Twins.

Boys STEAL HANDCAR, STRIKING BRAINER RIG.

Brainerd, Minn., Aug. 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—Four boys appropriated a Northern Pacific handcar on Sunday, and went to Fort Ripley. On their return they struck the buggy of Andrew Olson at a crossing in Brainerd, tore two wheels off the same and injured his wife. The shock of the collision dived the boys and scattered the handcar. The boys fled and the crew to their identity has been found.

Finally Rained at Brainerd.

Brainerd, Minn., Aug. 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—The first rain in weeks commenced to fall at 11:15 last evening.

CANOE TRIP ON LAKE WINNIPEG

John A. Stephenson Comments on Growth of Canadian City.

John A. Stephenson returned this morning from Winnipeg, after a canoe trip on the rivers and lakes in the vicinity of that city. Mr. and Mrs. Stephenson, accompanied by a party of Winnipeg people, which included Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Stephenson and daughter and Mr. and Mrs. J. B. MacLaren, made a trip by canoe from Lac la Poudre down the Winnipeg river to Lake Winnipeg and along the shore of that lake to Winnipeg. Except for the work of a few lengthy portages and a wetting in Lake Winnipeg on account of the overturning of his canoe, Mr. Stephenson says the trip was an entirely enjoyable one.

Winnipeg is assuming the appearance of a city of the future, and the people there are watching with interest the Canadian Northern operations which will bring the two cities more closely together. Winnipeg people look more to Duluth than they do to the Twin Cities for commercial connections on this side of the border, and the feeling is one that the people of Duluth should cultivate.

The drilling now in progress on the section of ne¹/₄, Section 20-58-19, is being done by Helmer Exploration Co. The first hole is being sunk only 300 feet south of the last hole drilled on Culver mine, which showed a large body of high-grade ore running south.

The Northwest offers greater promise to the ambitious man or woman today than it did in the golden days of '49. Then it was luck that made people rich. Today it is training, and we furnish the training. You need no further recommendation than a diploma from our school. It is the "open sesame" to positions. NEWS AND VIEWS OF POLITICS AND POLITICIANS

What Kind of Man the Range Needs in the Senate—Bob Dunn Files as a Candidate for the House—Dan Shell of Worthington in the City—Eleventh-Hour Candidates.

Forty-seven candidates for nomination have filed with the county auditor up to noon today, the last day for filing. It is the last day because that is the day on which the election of the primary takes place. The law provides that the election of the primary shall be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in September, which in this year is September 12.

The candidates in the field up to noon today are: Senator, Fifth district, Thomas M. Pugh, R.; Senator, Fourth district, P. R. Vail, R.; County auditor, Odie Halder, R.; Sheriff, William J. Candidates for the legislature whose districts extend beyond the borders of St. Louis county filed with the secretary of state at St. Paul, Minn., instead of with the county auditor's office. Senator Pugh was the first to file his name, and he put up his $1000 bond on the third day of the year. Edward Toman, candidate for county commissioner in the second district, drew No. 12 when he filed. E. L. Raab, putative candidate for the senate in the fifth district, drew No. 22, thereby being just in time to appropriate the title of skitloo candidate. The names of the candidates which means the candidates have contributed $550 to the coffers of St. Louis county. Five of the candidates are unopposed at the primaries. Two years ago there were fifty-five candidates in the field when filings were closed, as compared with forty-seven this year.

Range reports are to the effect that sentiment is steadily moving in favor of James P. Boyle of Eveleth, candidate for the Republican nomination in the senate, and of Dan Shell of Worthington, candidate for the Republican nomination in the house. Boyle is admitted on all sides and each day sees improvement in the situation from the point of view of Mr. Boyle's friends, who are working hard in his behalf. The range point of view on the candidacy of Mr. Boyle is excellently set forth by the Eveleth News, which says: "Need to Send Best We Have."

Very noticeable at the banquet tendered Governor Elmer last week when himself and official family spoke so flatteringly of Walter J. Smith was the inference of their surprise that the range could boast of this class of citizen, herein bolstering the News' contention that the range has the most urgent need of representation by its best and ablest men in state affairs. It is an open secret that the range is misconstrued and misunderstood, and that the people unlearned and illiterate, an impression brought about by its principal industry and the lumber classes employed to carry it on, which we have with us and always will have from the nature of the work.

Even so, the business men and men of affairs here are bright, keen, alert, possessed of as much sagacity, refinement and education as any other men anywhere in this state or any other state. Our problem is to bring this fact home to the people of Minnesota as a whole. To this end we can accomplish more by having the right kind of men in state positions than by any other means available, for communities at all times have and always will be judged by their representatives. St. Louis county, the range and Eveleth made a state wide excellent impression by reason of Mr. Smith's success, in that he is truly representative of the range and can be trusted to win the respect and esteem of all with whom he comes in contact.

He will add materially to brush aside the cobwebs of ignorance respecting this section of the state. The election of James P. Boyle as state senator from this district would be another step in the right direction, one that would reflect credit on the range in particular, since the range in particular has to do with his preference. Clean and able as an orator and lawyer, and therefore possessed of the ideal requirements as a legislator, he covers head and shoulders above the mediocre ability of his opponent, to say nothing of the fact that Boyle would add a lustre to the position that would coincide and work well with Mr. Smith's effort to dispel the impression that the range is inhabited by a lot of gumps, and that we have an abiding faith in our own people, and that we will not make any pledge to anyone except that.

"I would deem it my duty, if elected, as your representative to serve your interests rather than those who want special privileges and to meet with you face to face and I am therefore under the necessity of addressing you in this manner."

Cholera Infantum Cured. "Something like two years ago my baby, which was then about a year old, was taken seriously ill with cholera infantum, vomiting and purging profusely," writes J. E. Dempsey, of Duluth. "I did what I could to relieve her but did her no good, and before very many days she had passed away. I went home as quickly as possible and gave the baby a dose of the remedy. It cleared her in fifteen minutes and soon cured her entirely." For sale by all druggists.

Many state papers have heartily approved the candidacy of Mr. Dunn, saying he can do more for Northern Minnesota than any other man in the district. He has been making good roads his text of late years and is heart and soul in favor of reappointment of course. His fight for election will be watched with interest throughout the state. "Bob" has hosts of friends everywhere.

Daniel Shell of Worthington, Nobles county member of the senate in the legislatures of 1899, 1901, 1903 and 1905, was in the city yesterday, seeking re-election. He is a well known man here and is expected to return to Duluth for a stay of a week or more. Dan Shell is one of the most widely known Republicans in the state and when he comes to the senate he is a power, being closely associated with E. L. Smith, the present lieutenant governor and chairman of the state committee.

S. B. Bedford of Rushmore succeeded in his bid to be re-elected and is a candidate for re-election, but he has serious opposition, it is said. Mr. Shell is keeping out of the fight this time. Concerning the political situation in the state, Mr. Shell says he has no doubt but that Governor Elmer will be re-elected, no matter what happens of the other side. He is inclined to think that John Lind will make the run.

Senator Shell and Senator Pugh had a long talk at the primaries, but he will continue to visit different parts of the district and get acquainted thoroughly with the voters. The fight between Alex G. McKnight and C. E. Miller for the Republican nomination has had the effect of diverting attention from Judge Jaques, a circumstance he has not at all regretted. He has been busily engaged, however, and is confident that whoever is nominated by the Republicans, the Democratic nominee will be elected.

Mr. Jaques left St. Paul for "the county" yesterday and will come to Duluth from there. Alex G. McKnight is on the go continually these days, interviewing prospective voters in the different parts of the district. He has had mapped out for him a program that will keep him busy until primary day. It is Mr. McKnight's firm belief that he will be nominated. He says that insurgency in the range is not a thing to be feared, and that he has been assured of support on all sides. A communication that is being sent to the McKnight committee reads as follows: "We, the undersigned, desire to see a seat in the national house of representatives the electors are entitled to know what his attitude is on public questions. I realize that pre-election promises in this district are likely to be looked upon with suspicion, yet deem it my duty to frankly and sincerely outline my stand on the matters which most greatly interest the public. I believe that control of national legislation should be given to the people's representatives and should not be permitted to be lodged in the hands of a few men; that the organization of which Joseph Cannon has been the head should be removed from control of our national policies. To that end I would oppose the election of Mr. Cannon for speaker and, as far as lay in my power, I would oppose the election of any man to that high office whom I know to have the ideals of public service which Mr. Cannon and his associates have.

"In the handling of the tariff, I believe that each schedule should be made the subject of special discussion and should be considered separately and that a revision of the schedules should be made in the interest of the consumer rather than in the interest of the direct beneficiaries of the tariff. I would advocate a system for the expenditure of the public money which would do away with the necessity of congressmen having to trade away their convictions in order to get their share of the 'pork barrel.' I am in thorough sympathy with the progressive program initiated by Theodore Roosevelt and which has been advocated by men like Senators Cummins, Clapp and La Follette and Representatives Norris, Lindberg and Lenroot.

"I believe that party loyalty should be subordinate to public duty. If I felt that a party caucus might be used by the enemies of the progress and the representatives of the special interests as a means to defeat just measures, I would refuse to enter or be bound by the action of such a caucus.

"I would deem it my duty, if elected, as your representative to serve your interests rather than those who want special privileges and to meet with you face to face and I am therefore under the necessity of addressing you in this manner."

BAD PLACE FOR GIRLS

Would-Be Suicide Writes of Her Experience in New York.

Unidentified Woman Shoots Herself—Manuscript in Her Hand.

New York, Aug. 30.—Apparently discouraged by the failure of her manuscript to secure publication of some of her writings, and carrying in her handbag notes which tell of the perils and temptations which press upon the girl who seeks to make her own way in New York city, a fashionably attired young woman last night shot herself in the breast, while sitting in the waiting room of the Hotel Astor. At the elbow of the woman, a manuscript bearing the title "Thessalia," and under it, in her own handwriting, were the words:

"My pet story, which I want buried with me. I wish I could take books as companions into the unknown world with me."

It was a long story, and dealt with the adventures of two young men in Europe.

Identity Not Known. Attempts of the authorities to obtain a clue to the woman's identity so far are unrewarded. Whenever an effort was made to get her to say who she was she would bite her lips and shake her head negatively.

She walked into the hotel shortly before midnight last night, seated herself in the woman's room, and a moment later shot herself in the breast. She was conscious when taken to the hospital.

"I did it myself," was all she would say. She is about 25 years old, of medium height and light complexion, wore no jewelry and had only a small amount of money.

In her black silk handbag, which was picked up in the waiting room of the hotel, were found three letters, bearing the date of Aug. 18. They were addressed, "Dearest Blanche," "Dearest Sister," and "Mother dear," and from each the signature had been scratched so carefully as to be practically undecipherable, although the police thought they could read "Kora" in faint strokes in one of them.

Letter to Her Mother. "It is really terrible, but a girl cannot get along honorably in New York," ran the letter to her mother. "In some things I might be successful had I conceded to the wishes of men (?), cultured (?), usually modest, but minus morals. Never reproach yourself for what I am about to do. I can hear you say, 'Now, my dear, it is very wrong for one to take one's life, whatever the incentive may be.'"

By attending the New Era Business College, Superior, Wis., you can get good room and board, light and heat included, for $15.00 and $16.00 per month, all winter long. Washington, Aug. 30.—Forty employees of the forest service are in hospitals as a result of injuries received in fighting forest fires in the Northwest. Many are dead and some have been blinded totally in their endeavors to check the spread of the flames.

This information was received by the forest service of the department of agriculture from the deputy forester at Missoula, Mont. He asked whether, under the law, the government could pay the hospital expenses of the injured men. Under an order issued by Secretary Wilson of the department of agriculture, the forestry employees are entitled to medical supplies, but it was stated that the service would not include surgical attendance or hospital fees.

EXHIBIT IS BEING SET UP

A. B. Hostetter Is Superintending Work at the State Fair Grounds.

Paintings Will Be Chief Feature of St. Louis County's Exhibit.

The St. Louis county exhibit was yesterday loaded on a large freight car and today the car is being unpacked and the exhibit is being set up at the state fair grounds.

Agricultural Secretary A. B. Hostetter is superintending the work and before the end of the present week, the St. Louis county exhibit will be in place and ready for inspection.

The collection of paintings descriptive of Duluth and the surrounding country is expected to attract a great amount of attention.

The county will have a unique exhibit in its own building at the state fair. The first thing that will strike the eye will be a mammoth view of Duluth on its hillside, just as it looks to the traveler arriving by water, on such a large canvas that it seems like a picture. Another view equally striking is the Duluth harbor with boats arriving and leaving, still a third picture shows the fields and buildings of the famous Jean Duluth Stock farm. It is like a trip to Duluth. One who does not know the city will get a better idea of these pictures than would be possible in any other way.

Hay, clover, second crop clover and alfalfa, in sizable cocks, will be shown. It is claimed by the residents of St. Louis county that its pastures and meadows stood the dry season better than any other and the clover hay is there in heaps to prove it.

Another interesting feature will be the evolution of the pea, first the wild pea, then the older garden varieties, and finally the American Wonder and the standard exhibit of grains and grasses and vegetables will be full and worthy of study.

St. Louis county is not a competitor this year for county honors, so that C. P. Craig, as a member of the board of directors may not be embarrassed. But its exhibit should be visited by every one who comes to the fair as a showing of the agricultural possibilities of the largest county in the state, hitherto known only for its mines and its timber.

ROOSEVELT RAAPS COURT

Cites the Decisions Which He Says Oppose American Principles.

Is Boomed for President By Shafroth and Mayor Speer.

Denver, Colo., Aug. 30.—Acts of the supreme court of the United States were sharply criticized by Theodore Roosevelt in an address in the state capitol here yesterday before the Colorado legislature.

The former president cited two decisions by the supreme court, which he declared were contrary to the principles of Democracy, and complained that if those decisions indicated the permanent attitude of the court, the entire American system of popular government would be upset.

In addition to his remarks censuring the supreme court, Col. Roosevelt denounced dishonest legislators and demagogues. He said the people gain their riches at the expense of the public, attacked untruthful newspapers and magazines, and praised the periodicals and newspapers which, he said, boldly told the truth in order to purify the body politic.

Knows the Dangers. Reminding his auditors that he had been a member of the New York legislature twenty-nine years ago, the colonel assured the legislators that he knew of the hard work before them and the temptations to which they were exposed. "I know the dangers," he delivered his formal speech, which was in part:

"I am anxious that the nation and the state each exercise its legitimate powers to the fullest degree. When necessary they should work together, but above all they should not leave a neutral ground on which neither the nation nor the state can exercise authority, and which would become a place of refuge for men who wish to do nothing, and especially for the very rich men who wish to avoid the interests of the community as a whole."

Two Concrete Cases. "Let me illustrate what I mean by a reference to two concrete cases. The first is the Knight Sugar trust case. In that the supreme court of the United States, under cover of what a man whose interest is chiefly in sane constructive stewardship can only call a highly technical legal subtlety, handed down a decision which is exceedingly difficult for the nation effectively to control the use of masses of corporate capital and interest. The second case is the one called New York Baking Shop case. In New York City, as in most large cities, the baking business is carried on under unhygienic conditions, conditions which tell of the welfare of the workers and therefore of the welfare of the general public. The New York legislature passed, and the New York governor signed, a bill remedying these improper conditions. New York state was the only body that could deal with them; the nation had no power whatever in the matter. The governor and the legislature alone had the affirmative power to remedy the abuse."

But the supreme court of the United States possessed, and unfortunately exercised, the negative power of veto, permitting the abuse to be remedied, by a 5 to 4 vote the court declared the action of the New York law unconstitutional, because, forsooth, that men must not be deprived of their liberty to work under unhygienic conditions. They were, of course, themselves, the negative power of veto, attempt to provide a remedy for the wrong which the legislature alone had the power to remedy. The state did not confer any power upon the nation."

Against Democratic Principles. "In effect, it reduced to impotence the only body which has the power, so that in this case the decision, although nominally made by the nation, was really against popular rights, against the democratic principle of government by the people, under the forms of law."

Every opinion as these indicated the court's permanent attitude, there would be real and grave cause to give alarm for such demagogic and consistently followed up, would upset our whole system of popular government. I am, however, convinced both from the consistency of these decisions with the tenet of the states' rights, and from the more from the very fact that they are in such flagrant and direct contradiction to the spirit and needs of the times, that sooner or later they will be expeditiously reversed."

I mention them merely to illustrate the needs of having a truly national system of government, where every people can deal effectively with all problems, meeting those that affect the people as a whole by affirmative action, and those that affect merely the interest of one locality by affirmative state action.

Power of State and Nation. "I am a most earnest and convinced believer in exercising the power of the nation where that power alone can be really effective. I am a convinced believer in seeing that the power of the states be made effective where it affords the best means of affirming popular rights. Above all there should be no neutral ground where, owing to a conflicting series of decisions, it shall appear that neither the state nor the nation has power and where, in consequence, able and unscrupulous individuals are left free to riot at will without the possibility of checking or controlling them in the interest of the public welfare."

Two things struck me while I was abroad. The first was that to the average man whose life was hard America stood as the name which symbolizes hope. The second thing was that almost every man whom I met on the other side and talked with to any extent would ask me anxiously about some feature of business or political corruption in America. Every reactionary, every opponent of free institutions, hailed with sardonic laughter, every instance of corruption as proof that our plan of democratic government was an empty dream.

"We should remember that we are not only the custodians of the prosperity of our children, but in a sense, of the world. We should remember that we are the possibility of a popular government on a continental scale."

Roosevelt for President. An unqualified endorsement of Theodore Roosevelt was given by Governor Shafroth of Colorado and Mayor Speer of Denver, both of whom are Democrats.

This endorsement was given in the presence of thousands of men and women assembled in the great auditorium that was the scene of the last Democratic national convention.

The majority of the Republicans throughout the West and many Democrats will not be silent until they see you at the helm of the nation," declared Mayor Speer in addressing the colonel. "You are loved because you are not controlled, you are independent and your honesty of purpose appeals to all. Your courage has made your opponents wonder what you will do next."

"You have work to do, wrongs to right. May your life be spared to accomplish the great work which for the American people you are destined to reform."

Governor Shafroth was hardly less enthusiastic in his reference to the visitor.

"Speaking of the three essential qualities—honesty, courage and persistence—we have the courage of Lincoln, the endurance of Jackson and the perseverance of Grant, embodied in Theodore Roosevelt."

These references to Col. Roosevelt just before his presentation to the great audience called forth a demonstration resembling that given the successful candidate at a national convention.

SUCCESS SCORED IN "STRONGHEART"

Pierce Players Put on Creditable Performance at the Lyceum.

Columbia university won another football game at the Lyceum last night when the H. E. Pierce & Co. players put on "Strongheart." Columbia has won three of its last four games and audiences are no different from other audiences in all parts of the country, who delight in having the same played again and again for them.

The very name "Strongheart" is a ring of strength and of lasting qualities in it that endears it to the theater-going public. The play is as good as it was when first put on. The part made famous by Robert Edson, does not suffer in the least by the hands of William Jossey, and the other Pierce players are well cast.

The play is an interesting, entertaining and realistic as ever. The story is well known.

Mr. Jossey makes the role of Soan-gatala, or Strongheart, realistic. His acting is that of the Indian character is thorough and he does not overdo either the civilization or the inherent wild nature of the son of the chief. His portrayal of the role shows careful study and the result is a running and a mark of the successful stock company star.

George Dill and J. C. Livingston as Frank Nelson and Dick Livingston, respectively, make the characters convincing. Dill is a college student and Wayne Ross is in his element as a pretentious scoundrel and the two parts are well taken and the performance on the whole is one that reflects credit on the company.

"Strongheart" will be played by the Pierce players tonight and tomorrow afternoon and night. Beginning Thursday night, "At the White Horse Tavern" will be the bill.

Tabloid Opera Is Headliner of Well Balanced Vaudeville Bill.

For scenic beauty and musical merit, no act seen at the Bijou in the last months can equal "The Butterfly and the Prince," which is put on this week by May Orlotta and Fred W. Taylor.

The act is a tabloid opera, staged on a pretentious scale and the three large audiences enjoyed and applauded it yesterday and last night.

The scenery is pretentious, but the singing is the vital part of the act. Mr. Taylor and Miss Orlotta have beautiful voices that they use to advantage in solo and duet. Vaudeville has many supplanted in vaudeville as was in minstrel work. His long-drawn out stories, an exceedingly pleasant one.

Work That Tells
Plenty of It Has Been Done Right Here in Duluth.

Cures that last are cures that tell. To thoroughly know the virtues of a medicine you must investigate the cures and see if they prove permanent. Doan's Kidney Pills stand this test, and plenty of proof exists right here in Duluth. People who testified years ago to relief from back-ache, kidney and urinary disorders, now declare that relief was permanent and the cure perfect. How can any Duluth suffer longer doubt the evidence?

Capt. M. McLean, 4324 Gilliat St., Duluth, Minn., says: "Time has only strengthened my high opinion of Doan's Kidney Pills. I publicly recommended this remedy in 1898 after they had freed me from a dull, heavy ache across the small of my back and other symptoms of kidney weakness. There has been no return of my trouble, convincing me that Doan's Kidney Pills cure permanently. I shall advise the use of this remedy at every opportunity."

punctuated with characteristic laugh producers, keep the audience in a continual spasm of laughter and his act is topped off with two well-arranged parades.

T. Nelson Downs, cost manipulator, is about as clever a prestidigitator as Duluth audiences have ever seen. He plucks coins and cards out of the air and makes them disappear again with a flourish. His act is well received by his audiences yesterday thoroughly puzzled. Mr. Downs keeps up a running fire of conversation that adds to the interest in his act.

"S. A. E." MEMBERS WILL HONOR ORPHEUM SINGER.
Bert Lyon, who is appearing at the Orpheum theater this week with "Everything," is a college graduate and a member of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity, from Ohio university, and some fifteen members of the fraternity, are planning to honor him with a theater party for tomorrow night.

Every year when he visits Minnesota, he visits the Orpheum and the members of the latest popular songs. New songs are a craze with the average college student, and the fraternity that can keep up with the latest popular music is somewhat out of the running. The new songs are heard in fraternal houses and in the cafes, and Mr. Lyon's visit is therefore looked forward to by the boys, for they can always count on him leaving some "snappy stuff" behind him, for them to work on.

His act this week is one of the hits of the bill. Mr. Lyon is clever and Miss Mildred Warren has an exceptionally good voice, much of the credit for the popularity of the act is due to Miss Louise Meyers, who has the role of the fresh man. She is one of the newest comedians seen in recent years, on a vaudeville stage, and she keeps the act moving. Miss Meyers is a graduate of musical comedy, and expects to return to that field next season. Her dancing is above the ordinary, and this added to her gracefulness, and her pleasing and amusing manner, has made her a great favorite with the audience which have seen this week's bill.

APPLES BAKED IN OVEN WITH RHEUMATIC PATENT

NURSES ENJOY FEAST WHILE PATRONS LOOK ON WITH ASTONISHMENT.

Now patients were astonished Monday afternoon when they stepped into the treatment rooms of the Loughney & Loughney Bake Ovens and there saw nurses peacefully devouring beautifully baked apples which they had just cooked in one of the ovens while Mr. H. E. Hubbard of 1108 East Fifth street was taking treatment. The apples were baked to a mushy softness and the young women declared they were as fine as they had ever tasted.

"But is the oven sanitary? Is it clean enough to cook food? Is there not some danger in eating food prepared in such a place?" came a rapid fire of questions.

Dr. Loughney explained that everything that went into that oven, where there is never less than 350 degs. of heat applied to a patient, would necessarily be sterile. "There could be nothing more sanitary," he declared. "The nurses frequently bake potatoes, apples and, once in a while, roast meat there. These articles are cooked quickly but thoroughly, and there is no chance to lose their flavor. Nothing could be cleaner or purer."

The nurse also explained that the same heat used to cook an apple or a potato is administered to a patient. The patient's body is, of course, thoroughly wrapped in Turkish toweling and, in spite of the intense heat, the treatment is pleasant and it is most effective in all cases of rheumatism, stomach, liver, bowel and kidney trouble.

The office hours are from 8 a. m. to 6 p. m. daily and 9 a. m. to 12 noon only on Sundays.

Loughney & Loughney occupy all the office on the third floor of the Christie building on Fourth avenue west, between First and Second streets. Consultation is free to all who call.

Mr. H. E. Hubbard is well known in Duluth. He is employed at 112 West Michigan street, with the Hammond Packing company. He has suffered severely for eight solid weeks with rheumatism, and after being baked with the apples he declared that the nurses frequently bake potatoes, apples and, once in a while, roast meat there. These articles are cooked quickly but thoroughly, and

NEW SMOKE ORDINANCE GIVEN FIRST READING

Covers Entire City and Eliminates the Old Time Limit.

Firemen Want More Pay--Police Station for New Duluth.

WHAT THE COUNCIL DID.

Heard first reading of new smoke ordinance.
Received request from firemen for increased pay of $10 per month.
Ordered condemnation of property at West Duluth.
Respectfully plan for new outlet for Woodland sewer and asked for estimates of cost from city engineer.
Sent greetings to J. Proctor.
Made recommendations for desirable levies to the conference committee.
Sent contract for paving of Eleventh avenue east back to property owners.
Ordered health commissioner to investigate for bid for incinerator smoke stack.
Appointed election judges for September primaries and November election.

The city council last night transacted a larger volume of business than at any meeting since spring, passing upon many important matters of vital interest to different parts of the city. With the passing of summer and the approaching business sessions of the conference committee, the council sessions will be heavier from now on.

Among other questions, they took up the extension of Ramsey street, heard the first reading of a new smoke ordinance, heard from the committee on a petition from the firemen for more pay, and made some recommendations to the conference committee, and sent the city's cordial greetings to J. Proctor, who yesterday celebrated his 80th birthday.

The new smoke ordinance will come up for final action at the meeting next week. It is a rather comprehensive one, dealing with all descriptions of certain limits in which smoke may be emitted. It states that the provisions of the ordinance shall embrace the corporate limits of the city of Duluth. The penalty provided is a fine of not less than $10 nor more than $100, or imprisonment in the county jail for not less than ten days nor more than sixty days.

The old smoke ordinance is a joke because of the limits which are defined. Under it no smoke or soot is allowed to be emitted from a building along the hillside, while nothing is said about the district lying below Michigan street. The smoke nuisance in Duluth has become a serious problem. The health department has been trying to combat it for years, but has been unable to do so because of the lack of an effective ordinance. Dr. Webster is confident that with the passage of the ordinance introduced last night, he will be able to compel the owners of smokestacks to stop emitting smoke. Another feature of the new ordinance is the omission of any time limit for the old ordinance prohibiting any chimney smoking more than two minutes at a time.

The firemen of the city sent in a petition asking that they be granted a raise of $10 per month after the first of the year. They give as their reason the high cost of living and the fact that the fire fighters of Duluth are not paid as well as those of other cities in the same class. The same request was made at the conference committee yesterday afternoon. As this year it is probable that the question will be thoroughly discussed by that body, after which it may again be brought before the council. The petition was referred to a council committee and it is also possible that upon its report the council will make some recommendation to the conference committee.

A large delegation from West Duluth was present to discuss the extension of Ramsey street from its present terminus at the right of way of the Northern Pacific at West Duluth, to Grand avenue. After both sides had heard the council voted unanimously to order the condemnation of the property necessary. Judging from the remarks of those who opposed the extension, the city will have a fight in the courts to settle the matter.

IT WAS ECZEMA IT WAS RINGWORM

It Spread All Over His Head--If Touched It Would Bleed and Leave Raw Spot--Could not Go to School--Spent $200, Still He Was Bald.

Got Cuticura. In Six Weeks He Was Well and Had Growth of Hair.

"One day, when my boy was five years old, I noticed a sore on the top of his head. I thought it was a pimple, but it grew and he said it was eczema. After treating it for a week it spread all over his head, so the doctor advised us to see a specialist in New York, by the name of --. He said it was a bad case of ringworm and recommended a course of treatment. We doctored with him a long while and spent about $200 and the boy's head was still bald. He had a disgusting itching of the head. It would scale over night and if you touched it it would bleed and leave a raw spot. All this time he had not been able to go to school, although he was eight years old.

"Then an old druggist named -- said, 'Why don't you take him to the Lyeum Pharmacy, as they have cured a young lady with the Cuticura Remedies?' But they said the doctor had said it was eczema and we were determined to try the Cuticura Remedies ourselves. We got Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Lotion and they gave our boy immediate relief with the first application and in six weeks' time he is fourteen and has a nice growth of hair than any other child. The doctor he said would be bald or his hair would come out in white spots, and several doctors said to take the child to the Lyeum Pharmacy. We had at least seven doctors and we received no benefit from any. Mrs. Harry Foster, Liberty Corner, N. J., Feb. 25, 1910."

tension, the city will have a fight in the courts to settle the matter. N. E. Nelson, half of whose building will be taken by the proceeding, believed that the railroad tracks could be crossed at right angles with almost equally satisfactory results. Others who spoke were J. Frey, Louis Hamstead, Charles Grover, David Sang, Edward Dornedy, Alderman Barnes and F. W. Jolitz.

The city engineer was directed to prepare an estimate of the cost of building an outlet to the Woodland sanitary trunk sewer at Fischer's creek and St. Marie street, installing a septic tank at that point. The committee reported that the question raised as to the possible continuation of the city's water supply if the outlet runs into the lake is an important one. If the outlet can be put in Fischer's creek it is believed that over half the cost of the sewer can be saved and the contamination question solved at the same time. The committee took the view that if a septic tank would be a success at Lake Superior it would be just as valuable at Fischer's creek. A big part of the construction work would be eliminated and nearly as big a district served by smaller sewers with outlets in the lake. The estimated cost of the sewer is $15,000, making the saving a big one if the plan is put through. The committee also went on record as favoring the extension of the sewer to the end of the Woodland car line.

A resolution was passed upon motion of Alderman Barnes recommending to the conference committee that provision be made for better police and fire protection at New Duluth. As proposed, this would include four policemen, a temporary police station, a fire hall, a fire engine and other apparatus and enough men to handle it. Residents and large property holders in the vicinity believe that such provision should be made by the conference committee. They assert that the value of property in that vicinity has been greatly increased and that as a result they are paying enough additional taxes to warrant added protection. They further point to the recent murders and incendiary fires and that three saloons are running in that vicinity.

Two years ago the council allowed $100 to pay the cost of the fire department at New Duluth and last night this amount was again allowed. No regular men are employed at the fire station and the sum to be paid to the last appropriation is about exhausted.

The health commissioner was directed to advertise for bids for a new stack on the incinerator. The procedure is because of the irregularity in paying the contract to Deetz & Co. for $1,500, their bid being received two or three days too late. This will delay the operation of the incinerator for probably several weeks, and the city is authorized to get expert advice on the condition of the stack. The health commissioner is to pay the cost of the cost of repairing it. It appears that the policy is to insure that the insurance is paid according to the value of the stack. If one-half its life is lost, the insurance is equal to one-half the worth of the stack, etc. The question was raised last night as to whether or not the city had been paying premiums upon the original value of the stack.

With one exception, the council approved the award of contracts for street and sewer improvements made yesterday by the board of public works. The detail in last evening's Herald said. The estimated cost of the contracts approved is $10,000. The contract awarded P. McDonnell for the paving of Eleventh avenue east between Second and Fifth streets with asphalt was referred back to the board of public works to give all the property owners an opportunity to be heard. A large delegation of those favoring asphalt urged its use at the board of public works meeting yesterday morning. It appears that those who desire some other pavement did not get a hearing before the board.

Recommendations for levies of $3,000 for the Getchell road over the hill at West Duluth and $5,000 for the construction of the Sunday road were made to the conference committee. Both roads are considered highly important to the development of the city. They afford excellent entrances on easy grades into the city, tapping the rich farming communities tributary to Duluth.

The city attorney was asked to advise the council if the judges of the municipal court can purchase furniture for their rooms without the consent of the council, and if the city is required to pay for furniture so ordered. It is understood that the resolution results from the purchase of two chairs for the court rooms.

At the request of Chief Troyer the council authorized the installation of a Zenith telephone at New Duluth for the use of the policeman now stationed there without the consent of the council, and if the city is required to pay for furniture so ordered. It is understood that the resolution results from the purchase of two chairs for the court rooms.

Dr. H. E. Webster, health commissioner, was voted $50 to defray his expenses in attending the convention of the American Sanitary Association at Milwaukee. It is believed that he will gather such information at its sessions which will be of great benefit to this city.

HUNTS JOB BY NEW METHOD

"4-11-44" Commits Poetry to Secure "Any Kind of Work."

Poetry Is Bad But the Writer Seems in Earnest.

Mr. "4-11-44," who does not disclose the name with which he was endowed at birth, has written to The Herald stating that he is out of work, a "white man in need of a job," and not inclined to take to the pick and shovel to earn a living. Having tried everything else, he has committed poetry as a last resort. His meter isn't always perfect, but he's original at any rate.

His effusion follows:
Just listen a moment,
My trouble I'll tell;
And when I've finished,
You'll say "tis—(simply awful)."

For twenty odd years,
I've roamed all over;
Now I've made up my mind,
To do so no more.

My trials and sorrows
Of bygone days
Were like other fellows'
Thousands different in ways.

My folks being poor,
Education neglected,
For a life of toil,
I sure am elected.

For all of that,
I don't mind hard work,
When given a chance,
No duty I'll shrink.

I was seventeen
When my father died,
Since that time,
Many tasks I've tried.

I've worked in hotels,
And sailed on the lakes;
I've labored in camps,
And made some fair stakes.

I have clerked in stores,
Worked in cities and woods,
In the mines and on farms,
I've always made good.

Now I'm out of a job,
And I need one bad;
When I need work,
There's none to be had.

I'm a poor, honest cuss,
Down on my luck,
I'll be a cashier,
Or go pushing a truck.

This is no joke,
No hobby—no far;
But an original form
Of a "job wanted" ad.

This is my last appeal
In this cruel world,
Unless I sell a job,
"4-11-44, Herald."

DOLLIVER LAUDS R. M. LA FOLLETTE

Senior Iowa Senator Urges Wisconsin Not to Retire Progressive.

Milwaukee, Wis., Aug. 30.—United States Senator John D. Dolliver of Iowa last night delivered the first of a series of speeches in Wisconsin in the interest of Senator Robert M. La Follette here at the Hippodrome. The Iowa senator said that the first among Republican leaders to comprehend the character of the irrepressible conflict within the party between public interests and the present-day organizations of private business was Robert M. La Follette of Wisconsin.

"It is proposed now to put an end to his career—to cancel his commission—to make an example of him," said Senator Dolliver, "so that the young men of the United States in the future may perceive how much more comfortable it is—how much safer—how much more profitable, to serve the interests of financial interests which are trying to capture the strongholds of the government than it is to serve the people of the United States."

"It must be that he can afford to go back to the quiet and repose of private life, but if it is Wisconsin yielding to the corrupt influences at this moment flowing in upon her from all directions—shall go back to the old form of government by political bosses, owing their allegiance to foreign corporations, it would be a calamity almost inconceivable in its disaster to you and your children."

Speaking of stand-patters, Senator Dolliver said there were two schools, the Aldrich school and the school of "Hold fast all I give you," and the school of the apostle, who in a single sentence pointed out a plain road well suited to the progress of society—"Prove all

HAVE YOU SKIN TROUBLES?

Science Has Provided a Wonderful New Treatment, Zelmox, Which Promises Permanent Relief.

Science has at last given us a logical and effective remedy for skin diseases. Zelmox, the new preparation, is a salve which is readily absorbed by the skin and leaves no objectionable trace of any kind. Zelmox is marvelous in allaying irritation and itching, while the worst case of Eczema, Psoriasis, Pimples, Barber's Itch, etc., disappear as if by magic from the use of this wonderful remedy. It gives almost instant relief from Sunburn, Chafing and Prickly Heat.

In connection with Zelmox Salve, there have been prepared Zelmox Tablets, for internal use. These Tablets contain the most effective blood-purifying agents, in combination with well-known, mild vegetable laxatives in most minute quantities. The internal remedy acts fully in harmony with Zelmox Salve for external use, and the result is a most effective remedy for all skin diseases.

Zelmox can be purchased from Lethbridge Drug Company or any druggist, price 50c per box or $1.00 per large jar. Zelmox Tablets, 50c per box of fifty tablets. Sample of Zelmox Salve will be sent free on request by Eagle Laboratories, Marbridge Building, New York.

things and hold fast to that which is good.

President Is Taking Lesson.
It is an encouraging thing, he said, while the Aldrich school has been closed—not for repairs, but permanently—the American people by the million are studying the precept laid down by the apostle with results so far-reaching in their influence as to amount to a political revolution.

The course of study is a short one in this school which now numbers among its students a most distinguished pupil who already holds the diploma of the other school—the president of the United States.

The recent interstate commerce bill, which provided, among other things, for a court of commerce, he said, contained some "monstrous propositions" covered up in a rubbish of words almost impossible to understand, but that they were eliminated from the measure, and that when the president signed it, he approved not what the attorney general had prepared, but what the congress of the United States had done. He gave credit for the elimination of the "monstrous propositions" to Senators La Follette, Cummins, Clapp, Beveridge, Bristow and others.

CUMMINS PREDICTS PROPER TARIFF REVISION.

La Crosse, Wis., Aug. 30.—Senator Cummins of Iowa invaded Wisconsin last night, delivering the first of a series of three speeches in this state. He devoted the larger part of two hours to discussing the tariff bill.

"Some men have said we passed a 'good law,' he asserted. 'I don't think so, although it is a better law than the one we passed last year. Leaders of the senate and house deliberately repudiated the Republican party platform and revised the tariff in the interests of the manufacturers and big corporations, and not in the interests of the American public.'

"I refuse to follow the leadership of Cummins, La Follette, Aldrich, and others. I don't look at them as sitting on a throne representing the Republican party."

"Whenever the American people have an opportunity to pass judgment on that tariff bill they will consign the men who made it to eternal infamy. The tariff should be revised again soon by a progressive Republican congress. He outlined his plan for revision of one schedule at a time, and strongly favored an independent tariff commission with power to publish information procured broadcast over the country."

Bass Fishing.

The method of casting is very simple and yet, to acquire expertness and the very best results, no little practice and experience are required. Before going on to speak of the baits to use and the general course of action, it may be well to remind you that no fishing trip is quite complete without supply of Golden Grain Bait.

It satisfies the thirst. Order of your nearest dealer or be supplied by Duluth branch Minneapolis Brewing company.

CAN RAISE THE MAINE INTACT

John F. O'Rourke Shows President Plan and Gets His Approval.

Beverly, Mass., Aug. 30.—If plans which President Taft regards favorably are adopted, the battleship Maine, sunk in Havana harbor twelve years ago, which since then has concealed the secret of the disaster which overwhelmed her, may be sailing homeward on or before Christmas, bearing a long delayed verdict to the nation.

John F. O'Rourke of New York submitted the plans to President Taft yesterday. The president over them for two hours. Mr. O'Rourke finally left for the summer capital with instructions to the president in Washington, during the last week in September, when definite action will be taken.

The plans for raising the Maine are by means of pneumatic caissons and the cables. The ship will be preserved intact, Mr. O'Rourke says, with every evidence of the disaster which sank her. It is proposed to construct a line of wharves about twenty feet on either side of the ship. Between the cables and the wharves will be pneumatic caissons to a depth of about ten feet below the keel of the Maine. These cables will be passed down one side of the caissons under the Maine and up the other. The caissons, these cables will be placed at intervals of four feet and form a cradle in which the Maine will rest.

Jack screws to which the ends of the cables will be fastened will be placed on platforms erected over the caissons, and when the packs are operated, the tightening cables will raise the Maine from her berth of mud and gradually lift her clear from the water.

SONG TELLS OF DULUTH

Charles Line Writes Words; A. F. M. Custance Will Compose Music.

Charles Line, a local attorney, has composed a "Song of Duluth," the words will be set to music by A. F. M. Custance and the music will soon be published.

The words follow:
"The queen o' the hills I proudly stand,
And gaze afar o'er sea and land;
My throne is carved from granite strong,
And nature's forces sing my song.

I hear the stormwinds blowing,
And laugh at their angry roar;
I watch the northlights glowing,
Leaping from shore to shore.

For fleeting time I have no care,
I'll be forever young and fair;
In days to come as in days gone by,
The queen o' the hills am I.

My fortune is hewed from solid rock,
With magic wand from mountain top
I stretch my mighty regal hand,
And all obey when I command.

I rule o'er troublesome waters,
That sprinkle my royal feet;
I bless my sons
With grace from my queenly seat.

My subjects all are bold and free,
And staunch and true they are to me;
From sleeping valleys to the peaks on high,
The queen o' the hills am I.

Rochester Woman Fatally Burned.

Rochester, Minn., Aug. 30.—Mrs. Richard Fitzgerald, while starting a fire in a cookstove Monday, was fatally burned when she attempted to pour kerosene from a large oilcan into the fire.

Shoots Baby Sister.
Bayfield, Wis., Aug. 30.—Playing with a 22-caliber rifle at his home near Ladell, yesterday 8-year-old Allen McQueen fired the weapon, the bullet hitting his 20-month-old sister in the head inflicting what will probably prove a fatal wound.

North Dakota Cleared.
Glen Ullin, N. D., Aug. 30.—Peter Remington of this place who was accused in Wash, Alberta, of being responsible for the death of a homesteader, July 5, because he happened to be with the murdered man was cleared of the accusation proving beyond doubt that he was innocent. The Canadian government returned his expenses to Canada and back to meet the charge.

BOOM FOR SHERMAN.
Presidential Aeroplane Is Started in Marshfield, Mo.

Springfield, Mo., Aug. 30.—If you run a stumpy forefinger southwestward across Missouri, starting at St. Louis, you will strike Marshfield, Marshfield, Webster county, in the Ozark mountains.

"That is where it first saw the light of day, 'it,' being nothing less than the presidential boom of James S. Sherman."

Marshfield's other distinction is that a score of years ago, it was scattered over half of Missouri by a tornado.

Mr. Sherman seemed a bit surprised to be thus started buoyantly on the road to the highest office in the gift of the people, but he bore up bravely and informed a thousand natives that the Republican "was the only right party," just as sure as the Democratic constituted the invariably wrong party.

Presidential Aeroplane.
Arthur P. Murphy, representing the Sixth district in congress, launched the vice president's boom. Mr. Murphy also had several words to say for himself, as he is a candidate for re-election and his district has been known to wobble Democraticward. The presidential aeroplane left the ground at Mr. Murphy's last words.

"And now," said the congressman, "I wish to introduce to you the vice president of the United States, whom I regard as our next president."

Mr. Sherman defended the Payne tariff bill and urged his hearers to use the greatest care in their election of men for the legislature, as that body would be called on next winter to name a United States senator. A score of Springfield men went to Marshfield to welcome Mr. Sherman and return to this city with him.

Halifax, N. S., Aug. 30.—The Union Bank of Halifax has issued a circular to its shareholders communicating an offer received from an English syndicate of $240 per share for the Royal

CUYUNA ROAD WILL CARRY 50,000 TONS OF ORE BEFORE WINTER

The First Shipment Will Pass Through Duluth This Fall.

Expected That 1,000,000 Tons Will Be Shipped Next Year.

Soo Extensions All Completed Except Twenty-Five-Mile Link.

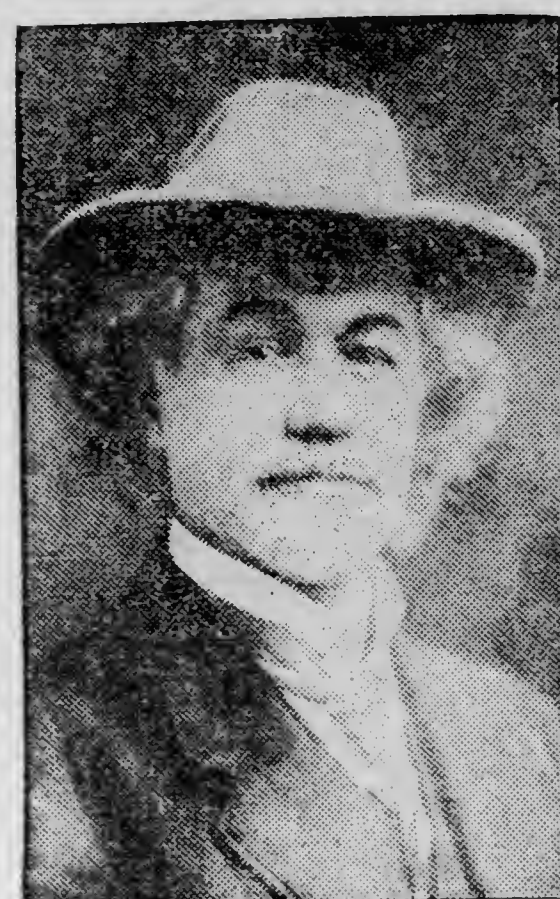

Shipments of iron ore from the Cuyuna range, named for the Cuyler Adams and his dog Una, will be sent forward over the new Soo line some time this fall. The initial movement will consist of 50,000 tons of Bessemer ore from the Kennedy mine of the Rogers-Brown company. The ore will come to Duluth over the new Soo line and will be taken to Ashland, Wis., where it will be placed in bottom for lake shipment. As soon as the Soo's ore docks at the head of the Lakes are completed, the ore will be loaded into holds across the bay.

Three additional mines will go on the shipping line next year. The prospective producers are the Armour, Interstate and Section 17, operated by the Rogers-Brown company. The shipments of ore next year are estimated at 1,000,000 tons. About 50,000 tons of ore is on the dump at the Kennedy mine ready for shipment.

Within two weeks Soo trains will be running into Crosby, where George M. Huss, division engineer, calls the "hibbing of the Cuyuna range." A spur two miles in length is being constructed from the Soo's Cuyuna line into the town, which has graded and lighted.

The committee on commerce and navigation today heard testimony from James Peabody, statistician of the Santa Fe system, who testified that the freight rate advance which he took the witness stand in the interstate commerce commission hearing today.

The statistician asserted that it is an accepted principle amongst students of railway management that from 1 to 2 per cent of the valuation of roads shall be set apart as a sinking fund for permanent improvements, such as track elevation, block signals, switches and depots.

President F. P. Ripley of the Santa Fe, on the witness stand yesterday declared that wages paid by the roads have increased largely, making operating expenses a greater burden. He also declared that the outlook for next year is not good and that general conditions are so considered in the judgment of merchants and those familiar with the trend of events. Further in his testimony, Mr. Ripley said that he thought it not improbable that next year the earnings of the road may shrink so that they would not more than pay the dividends.

RETIRED ARMY CAPTAIN TO FLY

San Antonio, Tex., Aug. 31.—Capt. A. W. McManus, U. S. A., retired, will attempt his first flight in an aeroplane of his own invention at Fort Sam Houston Saturday. A model of it has been tested by being hitched to a fast running automobile and has proved satisfactory.

HAY FEVER SOCIETY IS GETTING BIGGER.

Bethlehem, N. H., Aug. 31.—An increase in membership and a growing interest in methods of combatting the ravages of hay fever in various parts of the country was reported at the annual session of the United States Hay Fever association, which closed here yesterday. The place for holding the next convention was left to be determined by the executive committee. The association elected the following officers: President, Clayton E. Delamater, Newport, R. I.; vice president, William M. Patterson, New York; secretary, P. F. Jerome, New York.

HEAR THEORY OF TAXATION

Conferees at Milwaukee Listen to Paper on Work in Ohio.

Professional Assessors and Full Value Listing Are Advised.

Milwaukee, Wis., Aug. 31.—Allen R. Foote, president of the International Tax association, this forenoon presented a lengthy paper to the fourth international conference on state and local taxation, on "Taxation Work and Experience in Ohio."

To secure justice between taxpayers by an intelligent, effective and an economical administration of the general property tax, it is absolutely necessary to develop into a profession the work of determining the values of property for taxation, and that appointments of tax officials should be made regardless of political affiliations, were among the conclusions reached through his experience. Other conclusions suggested included the following:

To classify and tax all subjects of taxation in conformity with their economic characteristics.

For independent action.

Independent action for state and local governments in assigning specific subjects of taxation to the jurisdiction of each.

SOCIETY THE POPE OPPOSED DISSOLVES

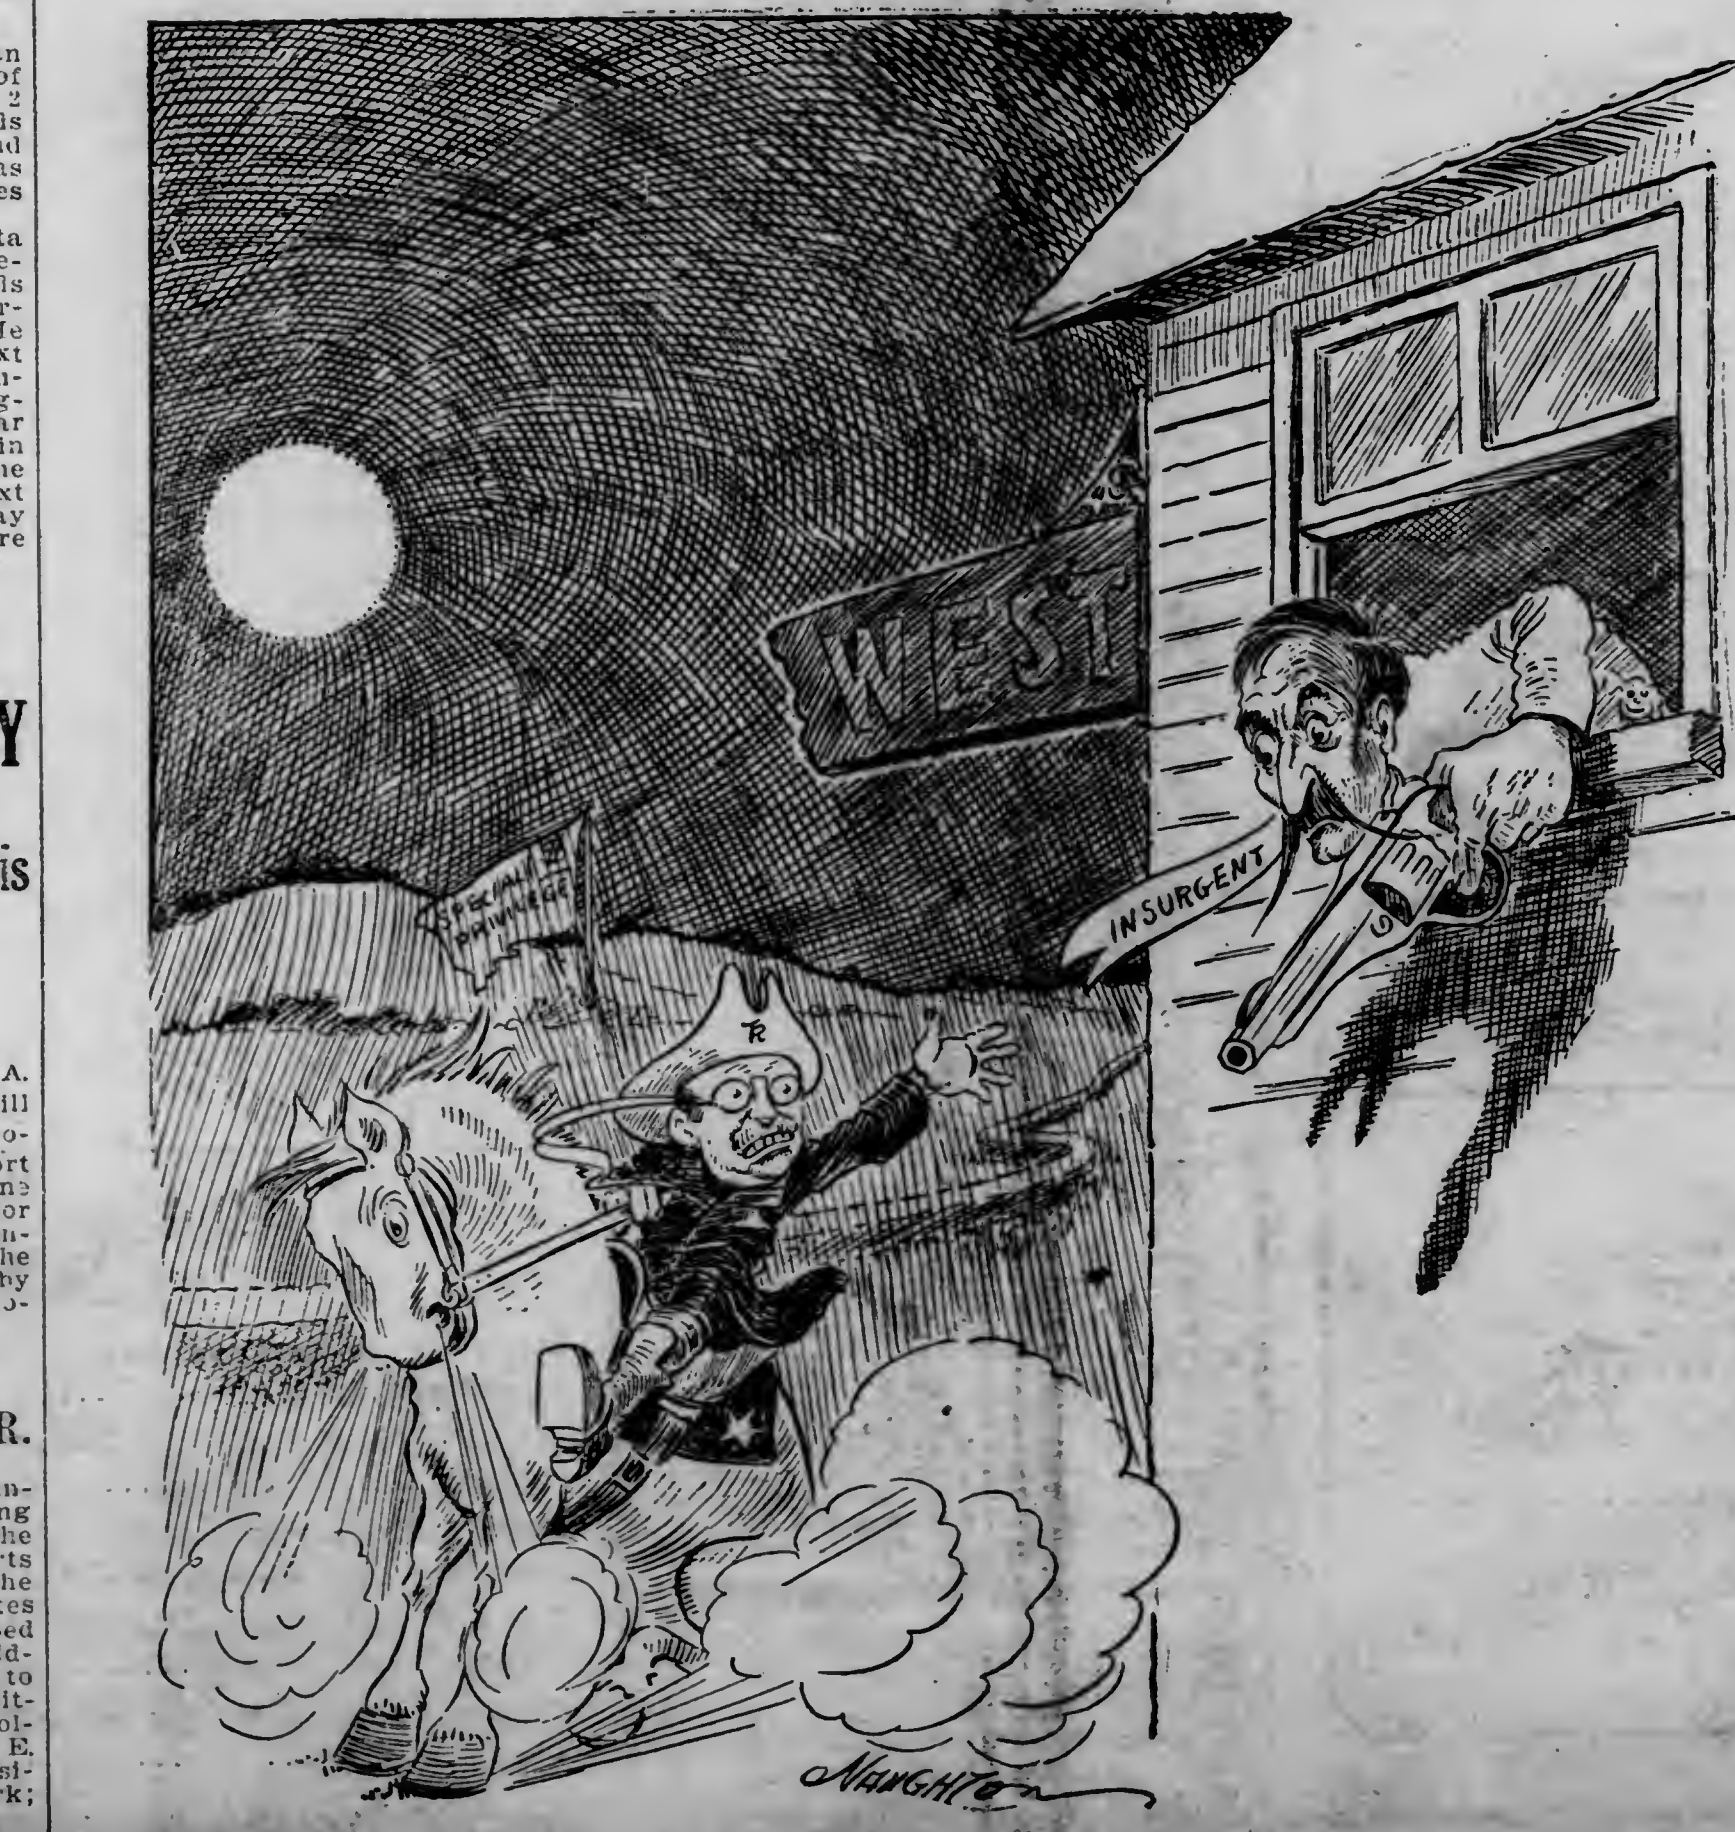

French Catholic Leader Will Continue Work All By Himself.

Paris, Aug. 31.—Sanglier, the head of the French Catholic student society, the dissolution and reorganization of which was ordered by the pope, has written a letter of complete submission to his holiness, saying that the work for popular education of the 500 branches will be turned over to the episcopate.

Sanglier adds, however, that he regrets the decision of the Vatican, as it gives the impression that the church is opposed to democracy, and announces that he will personally continue a democratic propaganda.

Rome, Aug. 31.—The pope, in receiving Signor Gentiloni, president of the Catholic Electoral union, today insisted upon the peril of modernism in all countries and under all forms. The pontiff said that he had displayed the greatest tolerance in the matter of the Siliotists, condemning the society. Repeated complaints had been made by the French episcopate, which declared that their doctrines contained errors common to all works for Christian democracy by false interpretation of the precepts of Pope Leo XIII.

EX-SLEUTH IS INDICTED

Perjury Charged Against Witness in Lee Browne's Trial.

Defense Rests in Bribery Case Being Tried in Chicago.

Chicago, Aug. 31.—The special grand jury called to investigate the testimony of three witnesses for Lee O'Neil Browne, who is on trial for alleged bribery of legislators, began hearing witnesses today.

Indictments charging perjury, were sought against Patrick J. Keeley, formerly a city detective in Mr. Wayman's office, George Gloss, a motorman, and E. J. Bell, a street car conductor.

Keeley is alleged to have perjured himself in stating that Representative H. J. C. Beckmeyer was intoxicated when he confessed to receiving a bribe of $1,000 to vote for William Lorimer for United States senator.

Gloss and Bell testified that Sidney Yarborough slept at Gloss' home on the night of May 24, 1909, instead of being with Representative White, chief witness for the state, in the St. Nicholas hotel at Springfield on that night. In so testifying the state's attorney alleges that the two street car men perjured themselves.

The defense introduced its last bit of direct evidence today and rested. Mr. Wayman stated that he would finish with rebuttal testimony tomorrow.

JUDGE GETS THE LOCAL COLOR

Comes Near Being Killed on Visit to Scene of Strike Riots.

New York, Aug. 31.—Magistrate Higginbotham of the Bedford avenue court entertained the idea that in handling the rioting cases developing at the Williamsburg refinery building, of the sugar trust it might be well to obtain some local color and glean some first-hand information.

This morning, while he was in the strike zone, trouble broke out between the strikers and strike-breakers and two bullet whizzed uncomfortably close to Magistrate Higginbotham. So close was the missiles to the magistrate's head that the police think an attempt was made to kill him. One strike-breaker was shot.

Princeton, Ky., Aug. 31.—Robbed of his wife by death and of his only child by kidnappers, Texie Allison, a prosperous farmer, has turned home after a vain search through six Southern states.

Little Gladys Allison was abducted while returning from the funeral of her mother three weeks ago at Shreveport, La., and since then her father has been unable to find a single trace of the child's whereabouts.

He is not a rich man, and does not believe the little girl was taken in the hope of securing a reward, and besides the kidnappers have given him no chance to pay ransom.

The Shreveport authorities have been unable to secure the slightest clue and the affair is as much a mystery as on the day of the disappearance.

Says He Himself Wrote the Opinion in "The Bakeshop Case."

New York, Aug. 31.—Judge Alton B. Parker, who wrote the prevailing opinion of the court of appeals of New York in the "bakeshop case," mentioned of which was made by Theodore Roosevelt in his recent address to the Colorado legislature in which the former president criticized the supreme court of the United States, made the following statement today in defense of the supreme court:

"It is safe to assert that the attack upon the supreme court of the United States by Mr. Roosevelt in his address to the legislature of Colorado will not be approved by the bench and bar and the thoughtful people of this country who appreciate the importance of the judiciary in our governmental system."

ATTACK MADE UPON CHOATE

J. R. Watts of New York Wants Him Ousted From Bar Association.

Dishonorable Conduct in Several Cases Is Alleged.

Chattanooga, Tenn., Aug. 31.—Charges that Joseph H. Choate of New York, former ambassador from the United States to Great Britain, has been guilty of the violation of the constitution of the American Bar association in a failure to uphold the honor of the profession of the law, and a petition to expel him from the bar association, were presented to the American Bar association today and referred to the committee on grievances. The charges were filed by James R. Watts of New York, through his attorney, George W. Chambliss of this city, a member of the Bar association.

The charges allege that Mr. Choate "has violated the confidence of his countrymen and the honor of the law by his conduct in several cases, and by his failure to uphold the honor of the profession of the law."

JESUS ULLOA SAYS HONDURAS MAY REFUSE.

New Orleans, Aug. 31.—It is probable whether the Spanish Honduras congress will ratify the proposed loan from American capitalists to that country, according to news from Honduras consul-general at New Orleans, who returned yesterday from Port Cortes, Honduras, where he has been in Honduras for several weeks, declared that the Honduran revolutionary movement was undoubtedly crushed permanently.

SOCIALISTS RAP TEDDY

German Calls Him "Political Drummer" in Copenhagen Speech.

Anti-Militarism Is the Day's Theme at World Congress.

Copenhagen, Aug. 31.—Former President Roosevelt came in for a raking, incidental to the discussion of anti-militarism at today's session of the international socialist congress. Several speakers turned their guns on the American the most bitter attack being made by George Ledebour, a Socialist member of the German Reichstag, who described him as a "political drummer." Among other things Herr Ledebour said:

"He has forgotten that he represents a democratic nation whose existence is due to a revolution. Shame on him for joining the British rulers against Egyptian patriots."

On the general subject of anti-militarism so many conflicting opinions developed that the congress was in a constant turmoil. The committee on international disarmament was unable to agree among themselves.

"MUST CLEAN UP POLITICS"

Ex-President Makes First Important Address Since His Return From Africa.

Lambasts Special Interests and Urges Tariff Revision By Schedules.

Would Regulate Big Businesses as National Banks Are Regulated.

Trip Through Kansas Marked By Cheering Crowds at Stations.

Oswatimie, Kan., Aug. 31.—In the most important speech he has delivered since his return from Africa, and the first in which he has dealt at any length with national questions and campaign issues, ex-President Theodore Roosevelt today addressed the people of this place in the celebration of John Brown's day by urging them to meet the present crisis in the life of the nation with the same spirit that was shown by the men who fought to preserve the country intact in the days of the Civil war.

Among the points urged by Col. Roosevelt were the revision of the tariff schedule by schedule, as the tariff is determined by the report of a federal tariff commission; continued work for conservation of natural resources; reconstruction of the national financial system so as to avoid the recurrence of panics; more extensive work for the benefit of agriculture and stock raising; and over and over he urged the necessity for cleaning up the more general establishment of the national interest system; and over and over he demanded the cleaning up of politics—his elimination of the special interests from political and legislative influence.

Further than these he assailed unearned wealth and excessive income and inheritance taxes; he assailed the doctrine of state's rights as being the means of the retention of power where neither federal nor state laws could attack the wrong-doer, and he urged more extended control over interstate carriers and other business of great magnitude.

Graced in Martial Style. Theodore Roosevelt, America's "peace envoy," came in from the West this morning to dedicate as "the John Brown park" the battlefield of Oswatimie, where, over half a century ago, the noted abolitionist and his men were killed.

WILL SEE GERMAN ARMY MANEUVERS

Several American Officers Among Those Given That Permission.

Berlin, Aug. 31.—Some sixty foreign army officers, including several Americans, have received permits to witness the coming imperial maneuvers. Capt. Samuel G. Shattell, American military attaché, will be present in his official capacity and the other Americans who will attend unofficially as guests are Maj. Fred S. Politz, Capt. Samuel D. Rockwell, Capt. Berkeley Shocks and Capt. Arthur L. Conger.

SECOND PRIMARY WILL BE NEEDED

South Carolina Returns Fail to Settle All Nominations.

Columbia, S. C., Aug. 31.—Local optionists and state-wide prohibitionists will meet in a second primary two weeks from now, according to nearly complete returns from yesterday's Democratic primary for state county and congressional officers. Three congressmen, Patterson in the Second district, Finley in the Fifth and outstanding in the Sixth, will enter second primaries unless there are unexpected upsets in the returns.

The other Democratic congressmen were all re-nominated.

With $8,000 out of a total vote of 50,000 already in, it appeared certain that for the nomination for governor, Coleman E. Blease of Newberry, local optionist, will enter a second primary with C. C. Featherstone for governor. Charles A. Smith of Laurens has a lead which will probably make a second primary unnecessary.

SEES MAN FALL TWENTY-SIX STORIES

Horror-Stricken New York Crowd Watches Horrible Sight.

New York, Aug. 31.—Crowds on Park Row stopped horrified today at the sight of a man's body hurtling through the air from the roof of the twenty-six-story Park Row building. The body crashed through the skylight of the six-story building adjoining and became jammed in the machinery of the elevator. It was a horrible sight and some difficulty was anticipated in identifying it.

It was not known whether the man fell accidentally or jumped to his death.

FINISHING TOUCHES TO PREPARATIONS FOR SCHOOL

Superintendent Denfeld Still Struggling With Assignment of Teachers.

Courses of Study Offered at the Central High School.

But five days remain before Duluth children will gather up their books and begin another year of study. Practically since school closed, preparations for the opening have been in progress. Nearly everything is now arranged and when school opens next Tuesday morning it is expected everything will be in readiness for the beginning of work.

Superintendent Denfeld still has some vexatious problems to solve in the assigning of teachers. Resignations continue to come in and Mr. Denfeld is now trying to hold the teachers wishing to resign to their contracts in order that his force may not be too badly cut into at the eleventh hour. The assignment of the great number of teachers, so that satisfaction and efficiency may be obtained on all sides, is no small task, especially when changes must be made in the personnel of the staff almost daily. Mr. Denfeld hopes that everything may be satisfactorily adjusted before next Tuesday morning, however, and is working hard to accomplish that end.

Teachers are arriving daily and the number of room hunters is consequently growing. Little trouble has been experienced thus far in getting located, but it is expected there will be some confusion in the final rush. A list of available rooms has been prepared at the high school and teachers who find difficulty in securing satisfactory locations will be aided by it.

Principal Leonard Young has been busy since his arrival getting adjusted to conditions here and studying the methods that have been in vogue. He has had little time to give to prospective pupils seeking information, but during the few days before the opening of school he will probably meet these having problems to submit to him.

The new Washington school is ready to receive pupils and the temporary manual training quarters in the Central high school have been fitted up. Other schools have been renovated during the year and all work begun during the vacation period has been completed.

Courses of Study.

Before the close of school last June, principals of the grade schools distributed copies of the courses of study in the high school, and during the summer many parents obtained copies of the courses at the high school, in order to select the courses for their children before the opening of school. Many have probably not yet made their selections, however, and Mr. Young is anxious that they do so before Tuesday, in order that there may be no delays in the high school work on account of indecision on the part of the students in regard to the courses they are to follow.

The courses of study were changed last spring, the principal changes being the arrangement of the commercial course so that a certificate of completion may be given at the end of two years' study, and the arrangement of the study of history so that an understanding of the origin of American institutions and laws may be studied in the first year in all courses. Spelling is taught in all courses during the second semester of each year. No time will be excused except for proficiency.

Students wishing to take three years of French may, with permission of the principal, elect French in the Latin course in the second year in place of a science.

When a course is chosen it will be continued two years unless permission to change is given by the principal. No time will be excused except at the request of the parent.

Students choosing an ancient or modern language must continue it two years to secure credit, except in preparation for college where only one year is required.

Students expecting to enter the University of Minnesota with elect solid geometry in the third year and advanced algebra in the fourth, for the University of Minnesota, chemistry must be elected.

The French course is for two years. Provision, however, is made for an additional year, when needed for entrance to the University.

 FOR VIOLATING HIS PAROLE *****

Saginaw Boy Must Explain His Actions to Judge Dibell.

Because James Whalen, the boy who was recently sentenced to the reform school, but who was given a suspended sentence by Judge Dibell of the district court, violated his parole, he has been taken into custody and will have a chance to explain in court Thursday morning.

Whalen was placed under the care of Mason Forbes, a local attorney. It is understood that he was to work in the city until he had accumulated a certain sum of money with which to replace the goods he had taken.

Instead of this the lad got a job on the steamer William Kerr and took a trip down the lakes. This is not exactly the environment that the court had deemed best and he was summoned before the court. He appeared this morning but the hearing was put over until Thursday.

Young Whalen was indicted some time ago. He was accused of having stolen property in his possession. The charge consisted of two watches. Upon recommendation of the county attorney Judge Dibell decided to give him another chance.

The lad claims that he was given authority to get work on the boat by the attorney under whose charge he was placed.

Whalen comes from a good family at Saginaw, Mich. He had a desire to follow the lakes and no sooner had he done so than he fell in with wild companions which resulted in his getting into trouble.

It is understood that an older and more experienced boy used him as a tool and that the real offender has not yet been caught.

The boys were in the city without a job and they had money had been spent for meals and places to sleep. Their situation was desperate when they decided to "lift" the watches.

MEN SCARCE IN CANADA

Clause Requiring Immigrants to Have $25 Is Suspended.

Winnipeg Labor Agent in the City Looking for 500 Laborers.

In so great need is the Dominion of Canada of laborers for the great railroad projects that are in various stages of completion on the other side of the boundary line, that the Canadian government has for the time being, caused to be non-operative the clause of the immigration laws which requires every immigrant entering Canada to have $25 in currency.

This action is taken as the direct result of the knowledge on the part of the government officials of the pressing demand of the Canadian railroads for laborers, and the knowledge that these men cannot be secured in Canada.

To better enable the railroads to secure these men, the clause requiring that each immigrant or laborer entering the Dominion must possess $25, is not in working order at the present time, at least in its application to men wanted for railroad work.

C. Stenstrom, representing L. Dingsman of Winnipeg, who represents the Canadian Northern railway, is in this city today in search of men to work on the several places of road work wanted for completion by the Canadian Northern at the present time.

Just how great is the demand for men by the Canadian Northern, over on the other side of the international boundary line, is shown by the remarks dropped by Mr. Stenstrom: "I could use 500 men, but there is not a chance of getting them."

In addition to the demands of the Canadian Northern, which has approximately 1,500 miles of road under construction at the present time, there are the Canadian Pacific and the Grand Trunk Pacific, both of which roads are carrying on great and extensive railroad construction projects, and both roads are crying loudly and widely for men to make progress on these extensions.

For instance, Mr. Stenstrom stated that the contractors and officials of the Grand Trunk Pacific believed that the great extension work that is increasing the mileage of that road in Canada would be completed by 1911. Now, he says, it looks like 1913 or 1914 for the completion of the western extension of the Grand Trunk.

Why? The answer is very simple—the Grand Trunk is unable to secure the men to carry on the work with the rapidity planned by the contractors. The Canadian Northern at the present time, according to Mr. Stenstrom, is carrying on construction projects from Saskatchewan to Lethbridge, and both Maryfield to Lethbridge, each of these stretches of road being approximately 500 miles from Prince Albert to Calgary, another distance of 500 miles; while surfacing is being done on the road from Winnipeg to Edmonton, a distance of over 800 miles. The road is being repaired from Regina to Prince Albert, and from Prince Albert to Calgary, new steel is being laid.

Work is also being done on the Pacific coast extension of the Canadian Northern, the road that will eventually give Duluth a direct connection with the Pacific coast, through Winnipeg and the British Columbia country.

Men are very hard to get, according to the story told by Mr. Stenstrom. He was successful in securing a small gang today, but he cannot secure anything like the number of men he would like to take back to Canada with him. The reason is, according to labor men here, that the railroads on this side of the line are also wanting to secure men.

After a conference today with G. S. Richards, the local labor agent in which the Canadian labor man was informed that the men were very hard to get in Duluth, and that railroad operations in the immediate vicinity of this city were demanding all the labor that was available at this time. Mr. Stenstrom stated that he considered he was fortunate to secure even the few men he did.

They are paying high wages for railroad laborers in Canada," said Mr. Stenstrom, "and yet the railroads cannot get all the men they need. There is also a great demand for labor in the wheat fields of Western Canada, so that you can readily see what a drain on the labor market of the Northwest Western Canada would be, if the Dominion could secure all the men it needed."

COUNTY WILL HAVE DAIRY MAID AT THE STATE FAIR

Very long engagements rarely end in marriage. I am quite willing to allow that there are exceptions to this rule; but they are few and far between, and in the majority of cases, the illusions of an engaged couple hold concerning one another wear off, and after perhaps some years of dangle about as "engaged persons," the first excuse, however slight is eagerly seized upon to sever the tie.

The months during which a couple are engaged are months of illusion, a time during which they see one another through the rosiest of rose-colored spectacles, and they live in a sort of glamor which could not reasonably be expected to last a considerable time.

At the time that after the first novelty of "being engaged" has worn off a couple are apt to irritate one another. If the girl is frivolous and inclined to flirt, she is sure to do so—unconsciously, perhaps, but still none the less—and the man will not care to forego his club, his cricket, and other favorite amusements, and attend his future wife at afternoon teas and tennis parties.

That she will expect him to be a little more attentive, there is little doubt. Only a wiser and more mature woman realizes the necessity for giving a man "room."

The secret of a successful engagement, as of a successful marriage, is the knowledge and the putting of it into practice that each individual must lead his or her own life just the same after an engagement or marriage has been entered into as before.

The error so many young couples

HOW LONG SHOULD ENGAGEMENTS LAST?

By CONSTANCE CARRUTHERS.

fall into is that of imagining that everything in their lives must be different, and while a man and girl may be able to live up to a perfectly unselfish standard, and give in to one another's well-wishes on all occasions for a short time, a long engagement would never stand the severe strain of that sort of thing.

After a few months of acquaintance each begins to awake to the fact that the idealized lover is only a very ordinary young man after all, and that the "pearl of a girl" is but the usual specimen of femininity, with all its faults and follies.

You all probably say that if this is the case it is better that the awakening should come before marriage than after, but this is not necessarily so. The very ordinary young man will doubtless develop into a singularly well-kept specimen of masculinity, and exceptional temperaments do not make such good life partners as more ordinary individuals, and then once the couple have gotten into harness and are set to the trifling work of everyday life they will lead a normally happy life.

I am not advocating rushing into a hasty marriage, which must end in disaster, but only advising the curtailing of long engagements. Disputes concerning each other, and the keeping of some of these will do much towards helping a couple over the pitfalls of the first year of their married life, which is the worst time to acknowledge to be the most difficult.

SENSE IN SHORT SENTENCES

There is no good reason for a bad action.

Little minds are tamed and subdued by misfortune, but great minds rise above it.

Every position of life, great or small, can be made as great or as little as we desire to make it.

The great essentials of happiness are something to do, something to love, and something to hope for.

Skill to do some thing; knowledge comes by eyes always open, and working hands; and there is no knowledge that is not power.

Only the man who works is free.

"In the inn of Decision men sleep well," says an old Eastern proverb. The habit of quick decision may lead to some wrong and hasty choices now been, in reality, his offering to Barbara Calthrop. For her sake he had resolved that Frome must be given a helping hand. But he had never dreamed that it would lead to a financial triumph. Apparently, Frome's position would ultimately be equal, if not superior to his old one. Presently, Freshfield sent word that he had repaid half the amount, and was prospering again.

"It was really awfully decent of you to help him, old man. He thanks me often, and I'm aching to tell him, it was all your doing. But I won't, of course, until you give me leave."

Elton sighed. There might have been a chance for him with Barbara Calthrop, had he only left things to take their course. Yet, after a few dependent days, he found himself almost glad in picturing her future happiness, even if it included marriage with Sidney Frome.

Months went by. He was prepared at last for her announcement of Frome's triumphant return, having news of it already from Freshfield. His congratulations, too, were sincere enough. He had fought his regretful jealousy with that much success. It was the girl who seemed embarrassed as he took her hand.

"It's sooner than he expected, isn't it?"

"Yes, a little." Then she turned away, and began to talk of other things.

After slight illness, during her recovery from the incoming liner, seemed to him providential. He was able to see Frome before she sailed. "So you know Freshfield, then," and he sent it at your advice. I ought to be very grateful to you both, Elton. He's been a great help to me in my difficulties at the time, and he came to my rescue. The fact is, I hadn't the courage to write and chide, even to give Barbara her freedom. I'd lost hope, and I was letting everything slide."

Frome shook his head warmly. "No, I won't mention it to anyone. If you'd rather not, but you're a brick, Elton, and I shan't forget it! You can guess why I've come home again. It's to settle things."

Elton escaped as soon as he could, mentally remarking that Frome's manner was constrained. It was not until a week afterwards that he understood its significance.

He had arranged to go away for a time. It seemed the best plan. His luggage was packed. He went to the station, and he saw Frome, who called upon him, plunging without preamble into the object of his visit.

"I've wronged you, Elton. I must ask your pardon. I find that when you helped me, it wasn't to further your own cause—to win Barbara from me! No, please let me finish. I know I was you who sent me that money. I knew the other day, though I purpose to think it over, I was wrong. I puzzled me why Freshfield, a stranger, should trouble to set me on my feet again. But the week before I left found him writing to you. Then I guessed the truth. He wouldn't admit it, but I was certain."

Elton stood awkwardly silent. "I may be a bad lot, but I'm not ungrateful. I'm not worthy of either, and we've been talking it over. I've discovered that she never loved me. No, she didn't, really! I asked at the right moment, that was all."

"I guessed it long ago; and that's well, that's why I came home. To settle things. I told you so, didn't I? Go and see her, Elton. You'd like to, I think? Go now! Good-bye!"

Ten minutes later found Elton still dazed and half incredulous. It was not until he stood at Barbara Calthrop's door that he roused himself from what appeared to be a dream.

"I've just left Frome," he stammered, when she came to him, "and I understand that he—that you—"

"Yes," the girl murmured, "it's true." They seemed to say no more than this till his arms were about her and her head lay on his shoulder.

"I had to defend him. I couldn't possibly imagine that you'd heard of his troubles, could I? We were deciding on another all the time."

"Why," Elton cried, "you don't mean to say—"

Mr. Freshfield wrote to you; and I—I, too, have a friend in Singapore—a girl who's married, and went to last year. So I knew everything you see. I knew from the first."

He would not face her.

"No one else would have done half as well."

Elton looked down at her at last. Her eyes were shining.

"At any rate, there was nothing," he declared, rather unsteadily, "that deserved so great a reward."

IT AN EARLY date in September The Duluth Herald will publish its annual Fall Fashion Supplement—in which it will give its usual authoritative expression on American and European fashions of both men's and women's apparel and some new things in connection with housefurnishings.

In this edition you will find all about the hobble skirt, the new silk scarfs and the turban hats that women are to wear this fall. The Herald has purchased the service of the Meyer-Both Company of Chicago, and this particular supplement, like everything The Herald does, will be done absolutely right.

The fashions for fall, in some cases, are more pronounced than in recent years and the new styles will be thoroughly expounded both by descriptive articles and beautiful illustrations.

Advertisers and readers of The Herald will both be interested in this excellent fall supplement.

THE EVENING STORY

THE REWARD

By Ellen Dupont.

It was the first letter to three months that Lawrence Elton had received from Arthur Freshfield at Bangkok, and he opened it eagerly to learn how his friend was progressing.

Tidings on this point were satisfactory. Soon he came, however, to a paragraph at which he drew a quick breath of dismay.

"By the way, you know Sidney Frome, I think? Well, he's from Bangkok, and absolutely on the rocks. Got into trouble of some kind with his money, and was dismissed without notice. I'm afraid it's a bad case and his reputation's gone. In a month he's grown almost unrecognizable."

"I suppose it's the same man?"

Lawrence Elton made a queer sound in his throat. Yet it was the same man—he had no doubt of that. A year ago Sidney Frome had left home with a good position and the congratulations of his friends. Elton recollected the date well. It was exactly after one that he had good cause to remember—when he had asked Barbara Calthrop to be his wife, only to learn that she had accepted Sidney Frome that very day.

And now, the man who had fore-stalled him was disgraced and penniless! After two years Frome was to have returned to claim his fiancée. That had been generally understood. This departure from the program was simply amazing.

Was there still hope for him, then? The thought leapt to his mind. Next moment he thrust it aside. This feeling of dissatisfaction was despicable, considering that he was a man who was surely grief-stricken by the news. He wondered how long ago she had heard. He had seldom called at her house. Now, however, it was the least he could do. The only question was he could he should wait awhile before offering sympathy and encouragement.

In the end he let his foot light pass. Barbara Calthrop showed no confusion or distress as she greeted him, and Sidney Frome was not mentioned until Elton caught sight of an envelope on the writing-table. She noticed his glance.

"Ah, yes, that's from Mr. Frome. It came yesterday. He's in Manila now."

"And doing well, I hope?"

"Why, of course! You didn't expect anything else?"

"Sidney says he finds far better chances there than at Bangkok. He's been very successful lately, and the firm have congratulated him several times."

"Glad to hear it! That's great!" said Elton, with an effort. He was pained and bewildered. But he told himself that he could not possibly undecieve her. That was Frome's affair. Frome, he recalled to Arthur Freshfield, "but don't let folks get on this side." That he decided was all he could do for the time being. He went to see Miss Calthrop more frequently now. Two or three other letters she showed him, all in the same confident, enthusiastic tone. Then several mail days passed without a word. He guessed the pitiful reason, but could say nothing. The girl began to show apprehension.

"He's ill, perhaps," she stammered; "ill there, among strangers! He—he's written every week up to now."

"If there had been danger," Elton asserted hurriedly, "you would have surely heard."

On one telegram arrived for Barbara Calthrop. It was unsigned. "Don't be uneasy. Prevented from writing. Nothing serious."

She showed it to Lawrence Elton hesitatingly.

"So you were right, you see, but whomen's so far away, and can't tell what may be happening moment for moment, it was an awkward moment for her, but he managed to smile, telling her not to worry."

Freshfield's next letter, reaching him after some little interval, brought information that astonished him. Frome had staid in a few lines of business; was working hard, too, and, in Freshfield's words, "absolutely coining money."

That was Elton's bitter hour. The not inconsiderable loan—arranged anonymously through Freshfield—had Catholics in the diocese of Duluth will observe next Sunday as Cemetery day. Public prayers for the repose of the souls of the dead will be said and the graves will be blessed.

All Catholics of the city are requested to assemble at the central mound at 4 o'clock in the afternoon. They will kneel during a prayer by the bishop. Members of the various parishes will proceed in couples through the cemetery. The men will walk first and will be led by the pastor of the parish. The age of the parish organization will determine the order in which the various parishes will proceed. The pastors will recite the requiem and the members of the parish will be expected to respond. The bishop will bless the graves.
After the procession returns to the mound the bishop will address the assembly. Kneeling, the people will then answer the litany of the saints, recited by the bishop.

DULUTH MECCA OF RAILROAD MEN

Many Traveling Passenger Agents Reach City on Same Day.

Duluth entertained many railroad and steamship agents yesterday, but their presence in the city at the same time was purely accidental and had no special import.
R. R. Blydenburgh of Erie, Pa., division freight agent of the Philadelphia & Erie and the Buffalo and Allegheny divisions of the Pennsylvania line, made an inspection of the harbor yesterday. He was accompanied by M. E. Head, local agent of the Anchor line and the Pennsylvania railroad. They examined the docks and terminals. Mr. Blydenburgh expressed himself as greatly impressed by what he saw, declaring that nothing can prevent Duluth from becoming one of the greatest cities in the country.
Harvey C. Miller, president of the Southern Steamship line, passed through yesterday with his family on a combined pleasure and business trip to the coast. F. H. Phillips, publicity

JUDGE PARKER UNION COUNSEL

Former Candidate for President Criticizes Justice Goff's Ruling.

New York, Aug. 31.—Announcement has been made at the headquarters of the striking cloakmakers here that Alton B. Parker, one-time Democratic presidential candidate and former judge of the court of appeals in this state, has been retained as special counsel for the unions to seek a reversal by the higher courts of the recent decision of Justice Goff, holding the purely domestic work to be illegal in that it demands the closed shop and enjoining the strikers.
The broad effect of Justice Goff's ruling, which caused some disorder, became apparent when it was announced that picketing of the factories will be stopped by the police.

FIRE FIGHTERS' PAY IS STOPPED

Washington, Aug. 31.—As a result of a conference between Acting Secretary Llyones of the department of agriculture and Acting Forester Potter, it has been decided that the firefighters injured while employed to subdue the forest fires in the Rocky Mountain region could not be paid for the periods during which they were confined in hospitals.

AMERICANS FROZEN OUT.

British Constructor Has Planned Chilean Warships.
London, Aug. 31.—American and Canadian builders who expected to compete for the construction of the new Chilean warships probably have been frozen out. Chile has invited tenders to be submitted by Sept. 15 for two destroyers of 2,000 tons, each capable of a speed of 23 knots. The plans have been drawn up and Sir Philip Watts, chief naval constructor of the British navy, and specify that the guns and machinery must be of English design and manufacture.

AEROPLANE SOARS OVER NEW YORK CITY.

New York, Aug. 31.—A mysterious aeroplane visited Madison Square last night. It came from somewhere in the east and disappeared in the same direction whence it came. No one knows who was in the machine, and several policemen, pedestrians and loungers in Madison Square say they saw it and heard it.
The whirling of the motor high in the air caused many necks to be craned toward the Metropolitan tower. Then out of the night there came into view the lines of a biplane. It swung past the tower, then turned and described a graceful circle, followed by others, around the illuminated structure. Its outlines standing out clearly in the light from many windows.
As suddenly and as mysteriously as it had shot into sight of the multitude, the craft rose and disappeared, leaving the tower, soon lost itself in the east.

OLD BANK FAILURE IS LAID TO BROKERS' ACT.

Washington, Aug. 31.—Another effort to revive an investigation of the Fidelity National bank failure in Cincinnati twenty-three years ago is about to be made by Chicago men, headed by A. W. Green, a broker in that city. The comptroller of the currency wound up the bank's affairs about two years ago, when the last dividend was allowed.
Just before the bank closed on June 27, 1887, banks all over the country received mysterious circulars advising the withdrawal of all funds from the Fidelity National, a run followed, and after $200,000 of drafts had been protested in New York, a national bank examiner took charge. When the bank closed, a corner in wheat which Harper was credited with holding was broken. The Chicago men claim to have information that the circulars were put out by a rival brokerage house which made great profits in the market.

EIGHT-HOUR LAW DOES NOT AFFECT NAVY WORK.

Washington, Aug. 31.—The submarines and torpedo destroyers authorized by the last session of congress are not to be constructed under the provisions of the eight-hour law. The department of justice has informed the navy department that the law did not require their construction in conformity with the eight-hour law, and as the cost of construction will be less if the law is not applicable, the navy department will let contracts for them containing no clause referring to the law.

CONGRESS OF AMERICAN REPUBLICS ADJOURNS.

Buenos Ayres, Aug. 31.—The fourth Pan-American Congress of American Republics, which has been in session since July 12, adjourned yesterday. The Argentine minister of foreign affairs made an address to the congress of which the dominant note was a plea for peace and arbitration.
"We should respect," he said, "the rights of all the republics and never employ force except to re-establish the empire of justice. We can now say, as was said at Washington, 'America stands for humanity,' because we are sovereign nations. Let my last word be to send from here a message of gratitude to the great nation which inaugurated these congresses."

JELLY ROLL

3 Eggs 1 Cup Fine Granulated Sugar
3 Tablespoons Cold Water 1 Cup Duluth Imperial Flour
1 Teaspoon Baking Powder 1-4 Teaspoon Salt
Beat the eggs and sugar until quite thick; add the water, then the flour, salt and baking powder sifted together; mix these in a little stirring as possible. Have ready a very shallow baking pan lined with greased paper, pour the cake batter in and spread evenly over the pan. Bake in a moderately hot oven from ten to twelve minutes. When done, turn out immediately on to a cloth sprinkled with sugar, tear off the paper and spread with jelly and roll up. Let the cake remain around the roll for a moment. Cool on a sieve or wire cake cooler.
The cloth, by holding the steam, makes it easier to roll the cake without the edges cracking.

THE FRUIT OF TARIFF TAXES.

The "best tariff law ever passed" increased the protective tariff on manufactured rubber.

If left raw rubber, in which Boss Aldrich is heavily interested, free of duty.

Boss Aldrich deals in raw rubber, and the protected manufacturers of rubber are his customers. The more raw rubber they buy, the greater Boss Aldrich's profits.

It is good for the manufacturers of rubber, who are business associates and close friends of Boss Aldrich, to have rubber free, because they are protected so well by the tariff that they are in a position to absorb all the benefits of free rubber, leaving none whatever for the consumer.

The Wall Street Journal, in a news note in a recent issue, tells about one of the first fruits of the rubber schedules in the new tariff law which Aldrich made and Taft signed. This fruit is exclusively for the enjoyment of those who make and sell rubber goods. The people's part is a humble one: they pay the bills.

The Goodyear Tire and Rubber company of Akron, Ohio, has increased its capitalization from $2,000,000 to $6,000,000. The stockholders pay nothing for this additional stock. The public is expected to pay the profits that will provide dividends upon it. The stockholders of the Goodyear Tire and Rubber company are now blissfully contemplating a cash dividend of 12 per cent and a stock dividend of 100 per cent. The public is expected to provide more such pleasure for the owners of the new stock issue. It will be compelled to do this by the protective tariff duty which Boss Aldrich, in the interests of the rubber trust, put on manufactured rubber.

Says the Des Moines Register and Leader, commenting on this evidence of how the tariff works: "This concern, and others like it in the rubber business, had no more need of an increase in the tariff duties on manufactured rubber articles than a man with enough to eat has of more to eat, except to gratify his gluttony. Yet, under the direction of the interested Senator Aldrich and others associated with him, the rate on rubber manufactures was raised from 30 to 35 per cent. When concerns like the above make such enormous profits that they can afford to pay a dividend of 12 per cent in cash and 100 per cent in stock, reductions in rates are needed, not increases. The case furnishes an illustration of the sort of tariff revision the Republican national platform did not pledge the party to bring about."

The tree of tariff taxes yields rich fruit.

That fruit is picked and stored away and eaten by the few beneficiaries of special privilege who have pulled with Aldrich and the Republican organization.

The tree is fed with the products of the toil of millions, and watered by the tears of the disinherited multitudes.

SCURVY TREATMENT.

Yesterday we called attention to the fact that forty men who fought the Western forest fires in the service of the government are in hospitals, and that the government is allowing them nothing for hospital fees and medical attendance.

That looked like the limit of nigardliness, but it wasn't.

Today's dispatches bring the further interesting news that the government has stopped the pay of these men who were stricken in its employ, and that they will not go back on the pay roll again until they are out of the hospital and ready for work. As some of them, doubtless, never will be ready to work again, many of them were blinded by the fire and smoke, the outlook for them is dreary indeed.

Such treatment as this is a shocking blot upon the government. It is a worse commentary still upon those "statesmen" who, in the interests of private greed, have held down the appropriations for the forest service.

THE FREEDOM OF THE WORKER.

For many years the courts of this land have pressed upon the worker the heavy burden of the full risk of employment. They have clung to the dreadful rule that the dependent worker, not the independent employer, shall carry this crushing burden of risk, and they have laid down the terribly cruel law that the man who fears to assume the risk has full liberty to quit his work if he doesn't like it.

That the tendency is strongly away from these hideous doctrines is made evident again by the platform of the Minnesota Democracy, which committed the party to "the enactment of a workman's compensation act that will justly and fairly compensate without delay every person injured in industry, irrespective of whether he assumed the risk, contributed to negligence or suffered injury through the act of a fellow-servant."

As the Democratic platform states, "it was the administration of the late Governor Johnson which inaugurated the movement for this kind of legislation."

Kansas already has taken the step ahead that Minnesota is contemplating. Not only has that state passed an excellent workmen's compensation act, but the law has been interpreted by the supreme court of Kansas in a spirit notably broad. The court truly says that ex-

ONLY RECORDED VOTE WAS FOR CANNON.

To the Editor of The Herald:

THE JURY OF TWELVE.

Indianapolis News: A suggestion recently put forward by an American woman in London, Dr. Mary R. Wilson, formerly of Indianapolis, who for several years has been connected with the Royal Infirmary hospital, that the jury system would be greatly improved if it took form in a body of trained professional jurymen has moved the London Daily Telegram to give an interesting history of the jury of twelve as it is known in Great Britain and in America.

When the Normans conquered England they found the country provided with a judicial system in which in criminal trials various ordeals were prominent features, the ordeal of carrying hot iron and of putting the hand into boiling water being customary diversions applied to the accused person.

Jurors came into being under the Plantagenets, receiving their first statutory recognition in the twelfth century. The twelve were not independent individuals qualified as now by their ignorance of the merits of a case, but were neighbors who knew something of the facts.

Thereafter, the testimony of the witnesses. For a long time it was the custom for a juror to be a member of the jury, and as the reign of Charles I. it was held that "juries are called from the neighborhood because they should not be wholly strangers to the fact."

When the twelve men of the jury of today are discharged unable to agree, there is no penalty for their lack of unity, though in a flagrant case the judge may adjourn the trial until the next day. In other times in England it was different, and where one held out against the eleven, he was committed to prison and the verdict of his fellows was taken. In the reign of Edward I. the jurymen decided that a verdict given by a majority was a nullity and it was recommended that the jurymen should carry the jurymen with them in a suit.

During the reign of Queen Elizabeth the successful party in a suit usually obtained the jury at a banquet after the verdict had been recorded and this was all they had for their labor.

Many antiquaries have made guesses as to whence the jury came. A French authority says its origin is lost in the mists of time. Blackstone speaks of it as "a trial that hath been used time out of mind in the kingdom of England."

Other authorities think it was introduced into England by the Normans who themselves got it from Northern Europe. The Scandinavians had an established jury system, it is said, 1,000 years ago. In England the rule was before the times of the Tudors that jurors should go unrewarded, but in the reign of Henry VIII the Tudor days this restriction was relaxed so that if a juror became famous he might be served with meat and drink and his fellows also at their own costs or at the expense of the parties if they so agree, by the assent of the justices. In this way the jurymen became a sort of jury feast while his associates were starving was avoided.

Demosthenes in No More. By Bill Nye. Twenty centuries ago last Christmas there was born in Athens, the greatest orator of whom history has record. His name was Demosthenes. Had he lived until this day, he would have been 2,200 years old, but he did not live. Demosthenes has crossed the mysterious river. He is now in that bourne whence no traveler returns.

Most of you, no doubt, have heard about those who may not have heard it, the announcement will fall with a sickening thud.

This sketch is not intended to cast a gloom over your hearts. It was designed to cheer those who read it, and to make them glad that they could read it.

Therefore, I would have been glad to have spared the thought of the which is the sudden breaking of the news of the death of Demosthenes will be. But he could not be spared. We should remember the transitory nature of life, and when we are tempted to look of our health and strength, and wealth, let us remember the sudden and early death of Demosthenes.

Demosthenes was not born an orator. He struggled hard and failed many times. He was homesick, and he stammered in his speech; but before his death he came to him for hundreds of miles to get him to open his country fairs and jerk the bird of freedom baldheaded on the Fourth of July.

When Demosthenes' father died he left fifteen talents to be divided between Demosthenes and his sister. A talent is equal to about $100.

Demosthenes had a short breath, a hesitating speech, and his manners were very ungraceful. To remedy his stammering he talked his mouth full of pebbles and howled his sentiments at the angry sea. However, Plutarch says that Demosthenes made a famous speech of his first speech. This did not discourage him. He finally became the greatest orator in his country, and it was no uncommon thing for him to draw his listeners to the Amphitheater full. There are now sixty of his orations extant, part of them written by him, and the rest by his private secretary.

When he started in he was gentle, modest in manner, but later on, carrying his audience with him, he at last became enthusiastic. He thundered, he roared, he shouted, he howled, he jested, he joked, he saved the air, he split the horizon with his clarion notes, he rolled over the tacked, kicked the lamps out of the chandeliers and smothered the bass viol over the chief fiddler's head.

Oh! Demosthenes was a business man. He got started in a long time before we see another off-hand speaker like Demosthenes, and I for one, have never been the same man since I learned of his death.

"Such was the first of orators," says Lord Brougham. "At the head of all the mighty masters of speech the adoration of ages has consecrated his name, and the loss of the noble instrument with which he forged and launched his thunders is a national calamity, irreparable forever."

I have always been a great admirer of the oratory of Demosthenes, and those who have heard both of us think there is a certain degree of similarity in our style.

Not only did I admire Demosthenes as an orator, but as a man, and I am no Vanderbilt. I feel as though I would be willing to head a subscription list for the purpose of doing something for his sorrowing wife, if she is left in want, as I understand that she is.

Some Recollections of Sport. In the October Strand Magazine.

Of course one is met always by the perfectly valid argument that the creatures would not live at all if it were not for the purpose of sport, and that it is presumably better from their point of view that they should eventually meet a violent death than that they should never have existed.

No doubt this is true. But there is another side to the question as to the right of the sport upon ourselves—whether it does not blunt our own better feelings, harden our sympathy and brutalize our natures. A coward can do it as well as a brave man; a weakling can do it as well as a strong man. There is no ultimate good from it. Have we a moral right, then, to kill creatures for amusement? I know many of the best and most kind-hearted men who do it, but still I feel that in a more advanced age it will no longer be possible.

POLITICAL ANNOUNCEMENT.

J. H. WHITLEY

The Well Known Candidate for Probate Judge.

I am a candidate for the office of probate judge. In this I fully realize that I am asking much as I believe this to be the highest local office in the gift of the people. Few people appreciate it as its true value either as an honor or as a responsibility. It does not have the vexatious trials of other courts, the spiteful lawsuits between the living, the trial and sentencing of criminals, the granting of divorces and the constant exhibition of the baser side of human nature. Its duties are to look after the affairs of dead men, and of the widows, orphans and insane, and sometimes to celebrate a marriage. For this sacred office the best lawyer and the best man in the country is none too good, and you cannot place the requirements too high nor be too exacting in your demands for faithful service. You should investigate and compare your candidates and vote for the best man regardless of friendship, party, place, politics or pull.

As a sort of platform let me say: 1. I believe in rotation in office and that life tenure in local offices is undemocratic and un-American. 2. If elected, I will stay on the job and borrow judges from adjoining counties only when absolutely necessary. 3. If elected, I will give careful personal attention to the examination of alleged insane persons and endeavor to send none but insane persons to the insane asylum. 4. I believe the range should have not only its own courthouse but an efficient working force in it, so far as practicable. It should have a first-class deputy clerk of probate there to look after the range business. The county superintendent of schools should have his office there. His field of operations is entirely outside of Duluth. The court commissioner should reside there. Duluth does not need him and the range does. The juvenile court should be brought closer to the range people in some way. To do all this will undoubtedly require some new legislation, but I will not permit the out-cry of me in good wishes or fairness for the range people, so far as lies within my power.

Will you vote for me Sept. 20?
J. H. WHITLEY, Duluth.

PADDY McDONNELL

Duluth's Strenuous Contractor and Inventor of the Now Famous Donnellite Paving.

PADDY McDONNELL.

Strenuous is correct! Indeed our late president Theodore Roosevelt never did have anything on our own Paddy McDonnell, when it comes to strenuousness. Mr. McDonnell is a man we all know to be one of Duluth's greatest benefactors. For over twenty years he has built our streets, railroads, sewers and reservoirs, all of which, though some of the works having been done over twenty years ago, is in the best of shape, demonstrating in a proof positive manner that the material he uses is always of the best.

Mr. McDonnell is of an inventive turn of mind. He is the inventor of the famous Donnellite Paving—a paving that is being used to pave Duluth's streets at present. It is noted for its durability and resiliency.

Mr. McDonnell is a prominent member of the local lodge of Elks, and was on the building committee of the elegant new Elks' home in our city. He is an optimist of the purest type, a natural-born "booster," and is one of the men that made possible that great mystic influence—The Duluth Spirit—that influence that has made this marvelous city possible.

Now you wouldn't think that a man of this character would have an enemy, would you? But it's a fact that Mr. McDonnell has had an enemy that has pursued him relentlessly for some time. Rheumatism attacked Mr. McDonnell just at the time when he wished most to enjoy good health, and it goes pretty hard with him, as a man with a lot of sunshine in his disposition does not care to be laid up a minute, but we need such men as our own Paddy McDonnell and hope he will take his family doctor's advice and spend a few weeks at some good hot springs to rid himself of his enemy, rheumatism.

EACH SHOULD HAVE A KEY

West Duluth Justice Decides Point Vital to Married People.

Should "hubby" be allowed to have a key to his own house when he stays out late sometimes? This was the question that Mrs. Bertha Hassinger, wife of Charles Hassinger, 131 South Sixty-fifth avenue west, put up to Judge Flack of the local justice court this morning. The justice told the woman that in his opinion a key to the house was common property and each was entitled to it.

Mrs. Hassinger, who has figured in much domestic trouble with her husband of late, labors under the impression that her husband will police her. Recently her husband filed information of insanity against the woman. She was examined in probate court and pronounced of sound mind.

On July 25 last, Hassinger was acquitted in municipal court on a charge of assault brought by his wife.

Lynch, pastor of St. James Catholic church, at 721 North Fifty-seventh avenue west. The wedding ceremony was read at 11 o'clock and a bride and groom were served at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Otto Robie of 848 Wadena street.

This afternoon, Mr. and Mrs. Hendricks left for Chicago on route to their new home at Spokane, Wash., where Mr. Hendricks holds a position as switch foreman of the Great Northern yards of that city.

The bride is a popular West Duluth girl and for some time past has worked as stenographer for the Zenith Furnace company at West Duluth.

They will be at home in Spokane, after Sept. 20.

The branch library will open in its new quarters tomorrow after having been closed a month since removing from the Western State bank building. The new quarters are in the Graham building, next to the postal station. A two-year lease has been secured. At the end of this time, it is probable that a new building will have been erected at West Duluth.

Andrew Carnegie, the steel magnate, donated $20,000 to the board with the usual provisions, and it is probable that council will pick a site soon for the new structure.

The branch, which was organized twelve years ago, now has 3,000 cards out.

BIG POTATO CROP IN MIDWAY DISTRICT.

There is said to be a big potato crop this year back of the West Duluth hills and in the vicinity of Midway. Despite the dry weather, it is said that the yield on some of the small farms will average over 300 bushels to the acre. The heavier vegetables are also said to be doing well, but hay and feed will be very scarce.

The meadows have been burned by the wind and many of the farmers will have to buy feed this winter for their own use.

Superior Fall from Pole May Be Fatal.

W. E. Turner Sustains Serious, If Not Fatal Injuries in Accident.

W. E. Turner, repair man for the Wisconsin Telephone company at Superior, may die from injuries which he received in a peculiar accident, while at work this morning.

Turner was at work on a pole at the intersection of Winter street and John avenue, when he suddenly dropped to the ground as if struck by contact with a "live" wire.

He fell thirty feet to a cement sidewalk. He was picked up unconscious by fellow workmen and was removed to St. Mary's hospital. It is thought that he is internally injured and physicians cannot state whether he will recover or not.

Officials of the local branch of the Wisconsin Telephone company discredited the idea that Turner came in contact with a "live" wire.

IN MUNICIPAL COURT.

C. E. Osborne, Charged With Forgery, Bound Over on $500 Bonds.

C. E. Osborne, charged with uttering a forged check, was bound over to the September term of superior court yesterday when arraigned before Judge Parker in municipal court.

Osborne was arrested some time ago and has been out on $200 bond. Since he has been held to the higher court, the amount of the bond has been raised to $500.

Otto Nelson was arrested yesterday charged with theft. William Frederickson brought against Nelson, the charge that he had stolen the former's "Sunday suit," valued at $25. Nelson demanded an examination. The case was set over until Sept. 3.

William Madges was yesterday placed under $300 bonds to insure his appearance in police court Sept. 9, for an examination on a charge of non-support.

Charles Christenson squared up a board bill of $20 in police court yesterday afternoon and then paid a fine of $5 and costs to and was sent out of the court after spending thirty days in the county jail.

McGovern in Superior Thursday—Lenroot Back From His Tour.

F. E. McGovern, candidate for the Republican nomination for governor in Wisconsin, will deliver a political speech in behalf of his own candidacy tomorrow evening at the Sons of Norway hall.

Senator G. B. Huddell, who is seeking the Republican nomination for lieutenant governor, has left for Eau Claire and other down state points on a long campaign tour.

Congressman L. L. Lenroot has returned to Superior from an extensive tour of the state, where he spoke in several places advocating the re-election of Senator H. La Follette. Last evening, Mr. Lenroot spoke before a large crowd at Agen hall. In his speech, he took occasion to denounce the "special interests" and the politicians who furthered these interests.

DIVORCE MILL GRINDING.

Four Couples Seeking Separation on September Calendar.

The divorce mill is grinding in Superior.

Four cases to be tried at the next term of superior court have been filed. Alleging cruel and inhuman treatment, Annie L. Francis seeks separation from her husband, Arthur Francis, of Edinboro, Pa., and asks the court to grant him a divorce from his wife, Emma, and claims that one Allen J. Hart is the cause of the trouble.

May Carson is suing her husband, Julius, for divorce on the grounds of drunkenness and non-support.

Another action filed recently for the present term of superior court is that of Jane Welchman, who seeks a divorce from her husband, Charles J. Welchman. Cruel treatment and non-support are alleged.

BOY RUN DOWN BY AUTOMOBILE.

Lester Atcheson, 12 years old, son of William Atcheson, residing at 2222 Osden avenue, Superior, was run down by an automobile yesterday and painfully, though not fatally injured.

Both of the bones in the left leg were broken just above the ankle and he also sustained painful bruises and cuts. The accident occurred on Tower avenue, near Twenty-first street, and failed to get out of the way in time. The car was owned by Mrs. E. B. Dear. The boy was knocked down and the wheels passed over his ankle.

He was taken to his home in the car. The name of the driver was not learned.

Want New Sewer.

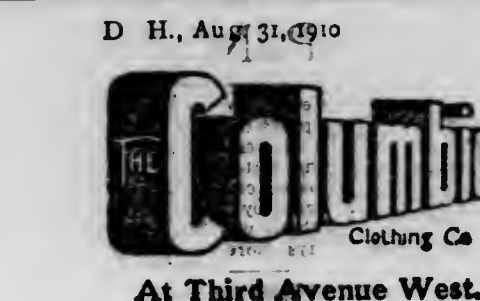

Alderman Kennedy of the Ninth ward is working for another main sewer, which is planned to benefit residents of Billings Park. A resolution to this effect has been submitted to the council and referred to the legal department, which will amend it so as to comply with the action of the legal department. As it is, the Ninth ward, now only has one main sewer, which benefits only half the ward.

An effort is also being made by the Ninth ward alderman to have Susquehanna avenue opened from Belknap to Winter streets, giving easy access to the site of the proposed Soo ore dock at the southern section of the ward.

LONG STANDING COURT ACTION MAY BE TRIED.

At a special term of court to be held Sept. 3, William Marx, attorney for H. C. Frink in the case against nearly every wholesale meat concern in the city as well as against the Retail Butchers' association, will ask for an order from the court asking the defendants to produce letters, data, papers, files and other documents relating to the case.

NEWS AND VIEWS OF POLITICS AND POLITICIANS

Frank A. Day Admits That Senator Clapp Cannot Be Defeated Even if All the Democratic Legislative Candidates Are Elected—List of Candidates Who Have Filed for County and Legislative Offices Here—Haroldson to Manage Adams' Campaign—Dacey Files for County Attorneyship.

Frank A. Day has been accused of pessimistic optimism where Democratic prospects are concerned, but he does not predict the election of a Democrat to succeed United States Senator Moses E. Clapp. In fact, in any danger, Mr. Day readily admits that there is no chance of anyone defeating Senator Clapp. The chairman of the Democratic state committee frankly says that the Democrats cannot hope to control the legislature which will elect Mr. Clapp's successor. He said in St. Paul yesterday.

Even if we elect all our candidates, we will not have a majority of the legislature. While I am not full of information, and there is much more to be said, I am quite sure that is the case. We have more candidates in the legislature than we have last time, and have entered several districts where we have not made a fight before. I do not believe we have candidates enough in the legislature to elect a majority even if we elect them all, which we hardly hope to do.

Senator Clapp has long been considered a staunch friend of northern Minnesota and he has many friends among the Democrats in the legislature. His insurgency, the junior senator, has been almost a Democrat of late anyway.

Now that the filing for nominations at the primaries Sept. 20 are closed, the voters will have an opportunity to scan the list of candidates at their leisure and decide for whom to vote.

Charles E. Adams, Republican candidate for the office of county attorney, today announced the selection of Hans E. Haroldson to take the well-known Adams' Campaign, charge of the city of Duluth, in order to give Mr. Adams more time for his canvass in the political arena. Mr. Haroldson for this task is looked upon by those well acquainted with the political situation as an exceedingly fortunate one.

He has grown up in Duluth, is a graduate of the Duluth high school and the University of Minnesota, and has been a member of the Duluth athletic club and the Duluth Boat club, and has extensive acquaintance in all parts of the city. Mr. Haroldson was for some years connected with the law firm of Francis W. Sullivan, and is now a member of the law firm of Haroldson & Colton.

He has taken an active part in political affairs in the past, and will devote his entire time for the next few weeks to the work of organizing the city in behalf of Mr. Adams.

Walter F. Dacey filed late yesterday afternoon as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for county attorney. He has no opposition in the convention. Mr. Dacey is assistant city attorney.

Dacey in the Field At Last.—Mr. Dacey is one of the most popular and widely known young attorneys in the city. He has lived in Duluth and St. Louis county for many years and has been active in Democratic politics all that time. He formerly lived at Avenue.

Mr. Dacey has been urged by his friends for some time past to become a candidate, and yesterday morning he consented, but was so busily engaged with his office that he was unable to reach the county auditor's office for the purpose of filing until just before 6 o'clock when the books were closed.

Two Republicans, John H. Norton, who now holds the job, and Charles E. Adams are fighting for the Republican nomination. They are both old campaigners of two and four years ago, but contest this year is a new one, and his friends believe that after the primaries Mr. Dacey will have a very good show of landing the office, no matter who is nominated by the Republicans.

Mr. Dacey, who is a native of Boston, is a graduate of the law school of the University of Minnesota and is well qualified for the position of county attorney. He is the possessor of a cheery, optimistic disposition, is a good speaker, and will make a decidedly lively campaign.

M. C. Palmer, candidate for register of deeds on the Republican ticket, has no opposition. This fact, may be considered as an endorsement of his administration of the office, which has been without doubt of such a character that it has given the greatest satisfaction to all concerned, and unquestionably those in the party of the Republican office were of the opinion that no good could come from dismissing an efficient officer for an untitled one to whom the entire business and details of the office are unknown.

The most popular puzzle in Minnesota politics continues to be the Lind question, which is: "What is John Lind going to do?" The general belief is that Lind will continue to be in the office, and will make a good record. Lind will run. Many observers have been watching him to this belief from the start, and that they are correct in their belief. Lind is indicated by news from St. Paul that Norman Lind, the former governor, has written the letter intimating that his father will make the run. Mr. Lind's present whereabouts is unknown. He is believed to be in St. Paul, and when he will return to Minnesota is also unknown. Frank A. Day is quoted as saying yesterday:

There is no hurry about settling this matter. The campaign cannot open until after the letter intimating that his father will make the run. Lind's present whereabouts is unknown. He is believed to be in St. Paul, and when he will return to Minnesota is also unknown. Frank A. Day is quoted as saying yesterday:

The last day for filing has passed without any action by William J. North toward becoming a candidate for the lower house of the legislature. The Fifty-first district.

North Declines to Run.—His friends urged him to make the run, but he decided that he would not do so. His business—he is an assistant manager of the Duluth Electric Light and Power company—occupies his time completely, and he did not care to be bothered with the political campaign. He would have made a very good run, but he is a popular young man who is likely to be heard from in a political way in the future.

Carl L. Wallace of Minneapolis, a member of the house, who is a candidate for the Fifty-third district, is "right" on the reappointment question. In a statement to the voters of his district, he said:

I favor a reappointment of legislative districts to take effect for the election of 1912, and in that reappointment I will use my best efforts to see that the county of Hennepin county is placed in a senatorial district by itself.

I shall continue to be a future, as I have in the past, to oppose any preferential form of taxation for individuals rather than a uniform and class taxation.

I favor an increased levy for good roads and greater attention to the improvement of our highways.

Mr. Wallace has been a member of the house since 1899, excepting the legislature of 1907, when he ran for the senatorial nomination against E. E. Smith and was defeated. He is a close student of taxation problems. He filed yesterday.

Waiting until the last day, Senator A. D. Stephens of Crookston filed today as a candidate for reappointment and the battle is on.

Polk County War. It will be a terrific conflict, for Polk county is now in full swing. The legislative issues and the candidates will see to it that the excitement is kept up. The county of Polk is prominent in the legislature and the business world make the fight between the two parties exceptionally interesting to all the state.

The lineup is Senator Stephens for the senate and Ole N. Lind, and M. S. Aker for the house on one side, and Representative John Saugstad for the senate and Representative John Holten and W. A. Marlin for representative on the county option ticket. The options were turned down by the county convention in June.

education, with the Crookston School of Agriculture in the foreground and agricultural training in its most essential features in the rural schools.

ASKS LARGE SUM

William Leonhard Wants $31,360 From Duluth & Iron Range Railroad.

William Leonhard asks $31,360 from the Duluth & Iron Range Railroad company for injuries alleged to have been sustained during the month of September, 1904, when a bucket of ore was dropped upon his foot, crushing that member.

In his complaint Leonhard states that he was master of the steamer J. B. Cowie and for his services he received $106 a month. By reason of the accident he claims to have lost $9,360. He says he has paid out for medical attention $1,000, and he is entitled to $5,500 as special damages, and $15,000 for his pain and suffering.

He alleges negligence on the part of the railroad company in that the bucket was dropped from the accident took place at Two Harbors.

New Candidate Has Appeared for Commander-in-Chief.

Denver, Colo., Aug. 31.—Election of officers and the selection of next year's meeting place will mark the closing business session of the United Spanish War Veterans here today. A ball to-night and an excursion into the mountains tomorrow will bring the seventh annual encampment to an end.

A new candidate for chief commander appeared in the person of Capt. John Cairns of Chicago. Cairns' candidacy divides the Eastern, Western and Southern divisions of the organization. The East is behind Maurice Simmons of St. Louis, N. Y., and the West will vote for Joseph R. H. Jacoby of Seattle.

The speakers for the convention of the Michigan state W. C. T. U. and Mrs. E. C. Chisholm, president of the Manitoba W. C. T. U., will be the principal outside speakers of note. "Live Issues of the

When a small clique of men put up a scholastic clique of the clergy of America and induce the ministers to in turn "hitch up" the members of the churches, we should all take notice.

They couldn't harness the preachers in a bad cause except by deceiving them. Ministers of the gospel are essentially and fundamentally honest but, like all men who work for the public good, they are at times misled by false statements.

Trust them when they have exact truth to speak from. Now for the story which should interest every one for we are all either receivers of wages or we pay to wage earners and the freedom of each individual is at issue.

"INTEREST IN LABOR SUNDAY." "Labor Sunday"—the Sunday preceding Labor Day—will be observed generally this year and in future years throughout the United States. This because of the American Federation of Labor's declaration for the observance of that day.

The numerous letters recently received at American Federation of Labor headquarters from ministers in an assurance that they are in the idea of giving special attention to the cause of labor from the pulpit one day in the twelve months is a refreshing sight.

Ministers of the church so that ministers will make addresses that may attract trade unionists to the churches "for the day."

Ministers should say, "and, and winds up with 'Union ethics are sound,'" observe the hidden threat. This is clipped from the American Federationist, the organ of Sam Gompers, et al.

This clipping has been sent to papers throughout the country and newspaper offices instructed to "urge" that it be printed.

That is one of the ways of the "union" to keep the papers print. But! Let's lift the cover and look under.

The hidden motive is as dangerous to the peace and liberty of the citizen as a cold rattlesnake in the grass. Organization by workmen to peacefully and successfully present their side is necessary and most commendable.

There are such organizations now rapidly winning their way to public confidence without strikes, dynamite or killing fellow workmen. (Some facts on this matter a little further along in this article.)

We see here a demand on the ministers of God that they endorse and help build up the strike-producing, boycotting and violent American Federation of Labor.

CANNOT BE MINIMIZED.

Coming Roosevelt Club Dinner Promises to Be Notable.

St. Paul, Minn., Aug. 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—Efforts to minimize the political bearing of the dinner to be given ex-President Roosevelt here next week by the local Roosevelt club are unavailing as even his enemies admit it will be fraught with political significance. Men closely allied with the former president will figure in the event.

Francis J. Heney, the San Francisco graft foe, has wired President Hugh T. Halbert of the club his acceptance. James R. Garfield and Clifford Finchot are also on the speaking program, while former President Roosevelt will offer a "few" remarks.

FATAL STOLEN RIDE.

Fargo, N. D., Aug. 31.—While trying to steal a ride on a train from Casselton to Fargo in the endeavor to save 50 cents, Emil Christensen, a young German was thrown under the wheels and mangled to death. A book of Stenman written by himself bore out the claim of acquaintances that he was well educated.

Old Bayfield Citizen Dies. Bayfield, Wis., Aug. 31.—While the auspices of the Masons the funeral was held here today of N. E. Carver, aged 69, an old and highly respected citizen of Bayfield, who died early in the week, survived by a wife and eleven children.

Mailed Obscene Letters. Stanley, N. D., Aug. 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—Because he declined a mania for sending letters through the mail that were far from meeting the requirements of the postal department on the question of morality, Andrew Johnson, a homesteader, was each morning! Its meat and bread to their souls. Then think of the lordly power, and don't forget the steady flow of money squeezed from the workman's hard earned pay envelope.

But when these leaders "tie up" any industry no man can hold a job who refuses to pay fines even on trumped up charges, and steadily pay fees whatever they are.

The workman is absolutely at the mercy of the band of men who have secured and hold control. Many and many an honest workman has raised his voice and appealed to his fellow workers to rise and throw off the yoke of Government. But, as one writes: "At every convention of the American Federation of Labor, strong opposition comes up but at the critical moment the impassioned orator appears and most dramatically puts the spot light on the leader and covers him with a mawkish film of 'martyrdom' and 'sympathetic strike' yells in delight, forgetting the instructions of the peaceful workingmen at home who desire to free themselves from the odium of membership under the great advocates of strike, boycott, violence and hate."

So we see the unequalled insolence with which these trade leaders propose to "induce" ministers to pull their chests from the fire by preaching modern aggressive and violent labor trust methods.

There is a better way to secure justice for workers, as will appear further along. Just a little diversion here. I am charged with having first brought to the attention of the public some years ago, the name "Labor Trust."

A trust is a combination of men or organizations for the purpose of selling their product at a profit and restricting production to effect it.

We will say a large Oil Company gathers in smaller ones and thus controls production. The Labor Trust "gathers in" local trade organizations and the has power to say how much work each man shall do.

The Oil Company then fixes prices. The Labor Trust does likewise. The Oil Company may "use methods" to force an unwilling dealer to join.

The Labor Trust men go further and slug the independent man if he tries to sell his labor without paying fees and "obeying orders." They are both exactly alike in purpose, which is to make the worker entirely selfish to gain power and money for the leaders.

Certain Labor Trust members do not hesitate to use violence, dynamite to effect property, burning homes of independent men and even murder to force obedience.

The Oil Company doesn't go so far. Both are extremely dangerous to the welfare of people and communities, for power placed in the hands of a few men either representing Capital or Labor is almost always abused and the public suffers.

Remember reader that your safety lies in strenuous opposition to all trusts which try to ride over and dictate to the people. Only by opposing their growth can you retain your personal liberty.

DIAMONDS STOLEN FROM THE THOMPSON HOME.

Narragansett Pier, R. I., Aug. 31.—Diamonds valued at $3,000 belonging to Mrs. Louis Kaufman of New York, are reported stolen from the home of Mrs. Archibald Thompson. The burglary occurred at the Thompson summer residence at Bass Rocks Village, where Mrs. Kaufman is a guest, last Saturday while the family was away. There is no clue to the burglars.

Bemidji's New School Plans. Bemidji, Minn., Aug. 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—The school board has decided that the new school building which was authorized at a recent special election to be erected on the east side of Lake Bemidji, shall be a commodious, substantial edifice, and shall cost in the neighborhood of $3,000. The building is to be erected on lots in Henderson's addition which were donated for school purposes.

Take Money Leave Silverware. East Grand Forks, Minn., Aug. 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—Fifty dollars in cash were stolen from the residence of Mrs. Dora Sullivan, a well-to-do housewife, who turned the trick evidently were frightened off the job before completing their work, leaving a bag full of silverware lying on the floor. They had gathered around the silverware ready to carry off with them. There is no clue to their identity.

Friends Leg Wrestling. Grand Forks, N. D., Aug. 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—Fifty dollars in a friendly wrestling bout with Eugene Thaler, O. J. A. (slip) or was thrown to the ground in such a manner that he was unable to get up. The break was between the knee and the ankle. There was a large crowd gathered about the two men at the time, and the fall was entirely accidental and wholly unexpected.

stayed, men murdered and the long list of atrocities practiced by Labor Trust members on other human beings who cannot agree with the trust methods.

Now for the better way. Workingmen are now organizing in the old fashioned trades union or "guild" way. United with the National Trades and Workers' Association whose constitution provides arbitration of differences with agreement for no strikes, boycott, picketing or hateful coercion of any kind.

This Trade Association has evolved from the experience of the past and is the highest order of Trades Unionism at the present day. Under its laws it is not possible for the Hod Carriers Union or the Street Sweepers' Union to order the school teachers or locomotive engineers to quit work in a "sympathetic strike."

If any craft finds injustice, the case is presented to properly selected arbitrators, testimony taken and the case presented to the public through the press. Thorough public opinion, that greatest of all powers makes itself felt and curiously enough a fair settlement is generally the result.

There is no strike, no loss of wages, no loss to the community and no faithful workers get their just treatment.

There are many details which have been worked out by men skilled in labor matters. It will recompense any interested man to know these details which can be secured by postal request for constitution and by-laws written to the National Trades and Workers' Association, Kingman Block, Battle Creek, Mich.

Reader, look carefully into this great question of the relations of Capital and Labor and its successful solution. The new public opinion, which brings results for the members.

I became so favorably impressed with the trustworthiness and practicability of the leaders of this new labor movement that I gave the Association a sanatorium at Battle Creek, Mich., about $400,000 and with about 300 rooms, to be used as a home for their old members and the homeless babies, sometimes made rather than a pistol, club or boot heel of some member of the violent "Labor Trust."

Suppose you attend church Labor Sunday and hear what your minister has to say in defense of the safety and rights of the common, everyday man.

Let me ask you to read again a portion of one of my public articles printed a few years ago: "The people of the world have given me much to think and spend in both cases entirely selfish to gain power and money for the leaders."

These old, sturdy grandpas of ours stood by that loom until the mantle was finished, then, stained with their blue blood it was handed to us. Shall I refuse to bear it on my shoulders because the wearing costs me a few dollars, and are you cowards who refuse to take the mantle from foreign labor union anarchist orders you to strip it off?

I have faith that the blood of 1776 will course through your veins until you call and call until you awaken. Then Americans will act. "There's a Reason."

INDIAN SALE IS ATTACKED

Government Would Set Aside
Transfer of White Earth Lands.
Many Bills in Equity Filed in Federal Court at Fergus Falls.

Fergus Falls, Minn., Aug. 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—M. C. Lunde, assistant attorney general of the United States, Ex-Judge E. H. Long, special assistant in the attorney general's office, and J. M. Dickey, first assistant district attorney for Minnesota, have filed about 100 bills in equity in the federal court here, on behalf of the government, asking that transfers and mortgages of vast tracts of valuable timber land on the White Earth Indian reservation in Northern Minnesota be declared null and void, on the ground that the allottees, being full-blooded Indians, had no right either to sell or mortgage their allotments.

Attorney General Wickham, about a year ago began an investigation of alleged swindling of full-blooded Indians of their land and timber. The Indian affairs department brought the matter to the attention of the attorney general, alleging that numerous interests were getting full-blooded Indians to declare themselves mixed-bloods to sell and mortgage their holdings at far less than their real value in Wisconsin as a full-blood cannot sell or mortgage his land and timber, but a mixed-blood can.

Judge Page Morris of Duluth, who usually presides over the circuit court sessions here, probably will cause summonses to be served on all the defendants, calling them to appear in court after thirty days to make answer. After that, it is likely that a special examiner will be appointed to take testimony on both sides.

Search Records in Evidence.
Mr. Lunde and Judge Long have for months been looking over land records of various counties in Minnesota, in order to get information about alleged sales of timber lands by full-blooded Indians. The United States attorney in cases the lands be restored to their owners or their heirs.

Mr. Dickey was in Fergus Falls yesterday, representing the Minnesota district attorney's office in the institution of the suits.

CUMMIN'S SLY DIG
AT J. S. SHERMAN

Says Carpet-bagger From Iowa
Is Good as One From New York.

Portage, Wis., Aug. 31.—"I have just come from my own state into Wisconsin to do whatever I can for a friend of mine of many years standing, for an associate in the United States senate, for a fellow lighter progressive Republican, for a man who in my judgment has done more for the conscience and stiffen the moral backbone of the American people than any other, the senior senator from Wisconsin, Robert M. La Follette," said United States Senator J. S. Cummins of Iowa, speaking at a meeting for the Wisconsin senator in the primary campaign here last night.

He referred to a paragraph in a "standpat" newspaper suggesting that carpet-baggers are not welcome in Wisconsin. "I recognize that I am a carpet-bagger for the time being," he said, "but the Republicans of Wisconsin recognize and welcome a carpet-bagger from Iowa just the same as a carpet-bagger from New York or any other state in the Union. I am not here because Bob La Follette is my friend, am here because he is one of the most persistent leaders of the progressive Republican party in the United States, and I am interested in the movement and want to see it sweep from one ocean to the other."

Would Be National Disaster.
"It would be a national disaster to retire Bob La Follette from the senate, Iowa is as much interested as is Wisconsin and I have title to speak for the cause to which I have given the best years of my life and a title that is just as good in Wisconsin as it is in Iowa."

A struggle between the factions of the Republican party is of great interest. It is for the voters of Wisconsin whether they be rich or poor, whether they be famous or obscure. Are each to have an opportunity to express an honest judgment with regard to candidates? We all make mistakes from time to time and if the people will express a conviction honestly from time to time, these mistakes will be speedily corrected.

He said the advance from the caucus to the primary is the most important advance that has been made in the United States for more than a century.

DOLLIVER PREDICTING RETURN OF ROOSEVELT.
Manitowish, Wis., Aug. 31.—That former President Roosevelt would be the insurgents' candidates for president in 1912 was intimated by Senator J. P. Dolliver of Iowa in the course of an address here last night, when he spoke in behalf of the renomination of Senator Robert M. La Follette at the primaries on Tuesday next.

The reference to the former president was a very brief one when, with a smile, Senator Dolliver said that Mr. Roosevelt would again be writing messages to congress after the 1912 election.

Aside from his comment upon the leadership of the ex-president, the senator's speech was practically a repetition of his talk before a Milwaukee audience Monday night.

GRAIN YIELDS
FOOLING MANY

Pessimistic Predictions About
Northwestern Minnesota
Not Borne Out.

Thief River Falls, Minn., Aug. 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—The heavy rains of Monday night have brought to an end the dread of the prairie fire, which for the past two months has been burning in the minds of the farmers in Eastern Minnesota and Red Lake counties. These fires have been slowly consuming the dry soil in places and have been running across the meadows and pastures, destroying large quantities of hay and grain. A few farmers have lost some buildings and some nearly all their season's crop of hay.

The farmers of this and adjoining counties are very busy engaged at the present time with the thrashing of their harvest. In many cases the results are surprising. The alarming reports of a great grain shortage in this territory are not being borne out by the returns from the machines. Twenty-four bushels of wheat to the acre is not uncommon and many farmers are bold to state that the grain returns to the farms this year will equal if not exceed that of last year.

The yield is considered very good and of a high grade quality. The straw also is bright in color and will furnish feed for stock this winter where the hay crop was short.

THE CITY COUNCIL HARBORS A REAL POET UNAWARES

Inspired with irresistible feeling, which might have been accredited to a poet, Alderman James Wharton, of the First ward, prepared the message of congratulation which was sent to J. Proctor Knott by the council upon the occasion of his 80th birthday.

"The hard to state in every day English that the message was merely congratulatory, after perusing the stirring sentiments therein contained. An artist and a statesman should have been delegated to write a fitting introduction under which to run the poem which has fallen from the pen of the city father from the Eastern suburb."

Here is what the alderman has to say: "Whereas, When Duluth was in her infancy and the summer sunshine scarce could sift through the interlacing boughs of the pine forests about her, and the Pigeon brave from his retreat on the hillside sang his love song to the Chippewa maiden as she coyly dipped her paddle in the placid waters of the Spirit lake and all nature revelled in the beauty to be seen in the situation, there came from the land of the blue grass and the bourbon rye a brave of upland lineage, even to the fine physique, sharp wit and prophetic vision and fled himself thence to the halls of his ancestors, even to the halls of congress. His mission was public. There in the full strength of his manhood he stood forth the champion of Duluth to civilization; he turned the tribes of the world to the praise of the mighty force of his convictions; he made the halls of congress ring with the reverberations of his name Duluth. A deathlike silence came over his auditors as the logic of his argument and prophetic vision forced itself upon them and they saw the future of their own great cities palling before the onward march of the city by the Unsated Sea; geographers stopped in the issue of information and placed a new name in old type at the head of America's most inland point of world navigation; and behold, the curtain had been drawn aside and the future revealed and the nations of the earth permitted to behold the scenic beauty, the natural, the logical, the unlimited, untold possibilities of the future of Duluth. The spell of his masterful and prophetic descriptions that not a voice was raised to question or condemn, but the multitude arose as one man and shouted to the world in wild acclaim: 'Duluth! Duluth! Duluth!'

"Whereas, Said J. Proctor Knott has this day reached the 80th mile post in his journey to the land of eternal happiness, therefore,

Be it resolved, by the common council of the city of Duluth, that this city extend to J. Proctor Knott its sincere greetings and congratulations on his having reached the ripe old age of four score years, and say to him that every man, woman and child of Duluth wishes his contentment and happiness and the continued fullness of an earthly recovery for many years to come. When tired day has sunk into the arms of restful night and the Western hills have observed his settling sleep, may he rest secure in the realization of a never-ending day.

The sending of the congratulatory message was passed by the council Monday night upon motion of Alderman Sharrel, following which the above was framed by Alderman Wharton.

The Most Wonderful Results Being Obtained at the Electro Radio Curatorium, 800 Alworth Bldg.

Actually Curing Consumption, Catarrh, Bronchitis, Asthma, Stomach Troubles, Nervousness, Rheumatism, Diseases of a Private Nature—Diseases of Women.

In fact, women need no longer submit to the surgeon's knife for trivial ailments peculiar to the sex. Not only relief, but positive cures obtained at this great center of healing.

An appeal to parents for the girls and boys of our community—Catarrh, the forerunner of consumption has already in its grasp a large number of our little ones. It has been clearly demonstrated that there is no form of treatment known to the medical and scientific world, which gives such splendid results as are obtained by the Electro-Radio Curatorium.

Our recently installed Hot Air Appliance for the relief and cure of all forms of Rheumatism, etc. is giving the most gratifying results, and is one of the wonders of the age. This appliance is in the hands of an expert, directly controlled under the supervision of one of the most eminent licensed physicians in the Northwest.

Read what this grateful mother tells from a grateful heart:

"When my son, George, began treatment with the Electro-Radio Curatorium, July 8th, 1910, he was suffering from rheumatism and was coughing day and night and had not recovered at all. He also suffered severe pains in his side and breathing was very painful. Now, after treatment for a little over six weeks, at a small expense, he is well and we are grateful and recommend the Electro-Radio on the eighth floor of the Alworth building, where honest and frank dealing from this institution will bring all cures and reliefs prompt."

CROOKSTON NEXT DRAWN

Federal Detective Has Evidence of Liquor Supplied to Indians.

Crookston, Minn., Aug. 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—I have got all the evidence I want in Crookston. Liquor is being lugged and shipped into Indian territory in grips by the wholesale. Crookston is just as bad or worse than Moorhead was. I am following a bunch of the grips out on this train this morning to find their destination. I will only return to Crookston to get a list of the saloon keepers from the city clerk. My work is finished and the evidence will be turned over to the Indian department. What action will be taken does not rest with me.

Special Agent's Statement. This statement was made this morning by Special Agent N. A. Way, who was aboard the train for the East through the Indian country after two weeks of detective work in Crookston and East Grand Forks. He claims that liquor dealers are selling liquor to scores of people who lug it off in telephones and that the dealers know that the liquor is being taken in such quantities was being taken to prohibited territory.

Way's statement has caused a sensation here and some action will be taken at once to prevent a further extension of the federal prohibition order. Many here believed that agents had worked closed here until Way showed his hand today.

After Colored Clubs Again. Alex Venables, one of the four colored men arrested on the charge of selling liquor in colored clubs without a license, was placed in the city court this morning. His trial will likely be finished this afternoon. The others arrested were O'Neill, Ben Hunt and Alex McAllister. The colored club bars were being operated by the four men before he completed his term of office. It is alleged that they remained closed for some time but that recently they have been operating again, and the police are once more trying to close them.

Water Heavily Fined. Frank Spencer, the Holland hotel waiter arrested on the charge of selling liquor on Sunday, was found guilty in police court today after a trial and fined $100. The evidence was secured by Patrolmen Stahl and Youngstrom.

Looking for Frank Hazel. The police have been requested to ascertain whether or not Frank Hazel was killed in this city Aug. 24. The authorities regard this morning from his brother, Frank M. Hazel, a son killed by a bullet in the manner in which he met his death. No man of that name was accidentally killed in Duluth the present month, as far as can be learned. It appears that the wife of the man supposed to have been killed is working on the Junata, and that he has not been living.

The complaint of John A. Stephenson that, in advertising its route East from the Canadian Northwest, the Northwestern railroad does not mention Duluth, has caused considerable comment among business men.

J. M. Gidding pointed out this morning that the same condition formerly existed in regard to advertisements of the route West. He noticed the fact while in the East, mentioned it to the Northwestern officials and now the Northwestern officials would give the same attention to a protest against the condition of which Mr. Stephenson complains.

It is probable the commercial club will take the matter up with officials of the railroad in order to secure pub-

(BY BRUCE.)

In an uninteresting and featureless game, Duluth yesterday took the second contest of the series from the motherless Rochester, the score being 6 to 1 in favor of the patched and then retouched White Sox.

Blancke was on the mound for the home guard and pitched steady ball throughout. With his salary wing in good condition, this boy would be one of the very best in this league. Yesterday the M.D.'s could do little with him, that little being equal to but one run, which came as the direct result of an error.

Further experiments were tried yesterday. "Babe" Bennett, one of the night amateurs, or semi-professional artists, was in center for the day. The Bennett boy handled everything that came his way, also getting two clouts.

In the second we collected two runs. Bouchart singled past second, advancing when Bennett hit one out of reach of Cleary. Schaeffer drew four runs and Blancke went down. Chase to Fisher. Bouchart came on the field. Anderson was safe on a fielder's choice, Bennett being called for a plate. Bouchart drew bases on balls, a run being forced over. With three on, Holman came on a base on error, Bouchart to Fisher.

In the industrial third three more runs were scored on the collection. Kramer was easily disposed of, Bouchart getting his second single. Afternoon, Bennett came on the field. Bouchart drew bases on balls, a run being forced over. With three on, Holman came on a base on error, Bouchart to Fisher.

In the fifth the last run gathered by the Sox was brought into the score house. Kramer new to Cleary and Bouchart singled past second, advancing when Bennett hit one out of reach of Cleary. Schaeffer drew four runs and Blancke went down. Chase to Fisher. Bouchart came on the field. Anderson was safe on a fielder's choice, Bennett being called for a plate. Bouchart drew bases on balls, a run being forced over. With three on, Holman came on a base on error, Bouchart to Fisher.

The only score gathered by the visitors came in the eighth. In the eighth round, Bouchart came on the field. Anderson was safe on a fielder's choice, Bennett being called for a plate. Bouchart drew bases on balls, a run being forced over. With three on, Holman came on a base on error, Bouchart to Fisher.

In the ninth the visitors got a man as far as third and also in the first. Korman snatched third, when Schaeffer tumbled the batter. In no other round, except the scoring inning, did the visitors threaten in the least. Blancke held the Surgeons quite peaceable.

Darby O'Brien pitched himself. He gave no reason why only that Muggs McGraw, Connie Mack, not to mention Clark Griffith and Hugh Jennings, are bench warmers. Frank Chance, too, is seriously thinking of running away with the Sox. He has been in the D'arby had these things in his crop, and maybe, this being only a suggestion, he thought of the two errors of the day before yesterday.

The main contest of the day, that for one day he has been here this afternoon. Below find the details of play:

AROUND THE CIRCUIT

If we are to believe the statement of the La Crosse leader-Press, a rumor, by the way, that carries the official news from the office of John A. Elliott, through Harry Rood, who, in addition to writing baseball, assists in the official family of large John, the Minnesota-Wisconsin league has almost passed into Class C.

This paper says the official census return figured will be placed in the hands of Secretary Farrell of the National Association of Professional Clubs, and that gentleman cannot do otherwise than approve of the advancement in class of the Minny league.

If action is taken by the secretary fall, it may be that the draft price on players from this league will be increased this season, and that managers taking players in this league will be called upon to pay a higher price for these players.

The advancement of the league is due to the increases in population of Duluth, Superior and La Crosse, and to believe—Lily of the Cross, Red Wing and Rochester. The advancement in class will place the Minny in the same class with the Three I league, and should naturally result in better baseball next season.

However, baseball history will bear out the fact that the size of the cities that governs the class of baseball played by the teams of a league. As long as the present season, just so long will some of the managers be compelled to support the under such circumstances it is very unreasonable to expect managers or stockholders to pay for money to buy fast baseball players.

Duluth is a city of the size to want better baseball than the people here have been given the past season. But then Eau Claire has been better than Western or American association. But just as long as the present season, just so long will some of the managers be compelled to support the under such circumstances it is very unreasonable to expect managers or stockholders to pay for money to buy fast baseball players.

There are possibly four of the eight towns of the Minnesota-Wisconsin league that might support class C baseball. These towns are Duluth, Superior, La Crosse and Winona. But at that, La Crosse has been a very dead town for the past seven or eight years. Winona is a very good baseball town, and Duluth, with a park and a few players, is a very good baseball town. Eau Claire has shipped De Haven to Wausau. The great idea of the league has been to get the best players for the good of the game, and he has never done anything that has been in the least detrimental to the league. He has been a very good baseball player, and he has been a very good baseball player.

The pennant race looked very serious on the heels of the Beverly club with the two recent defeats of Winona. WEST END

CONSIDER PLAN TO MERGE CLUBS

West End Organizations May Unite for Mutual Benefit.

To consider the movement, which is on foot to effect a union with the West End Commercial club, a meeting of the Sixth Ward Business club will be held Friday evening. The amalgamation will also include the West End Hillside Improvement club. The interests of the three organizations are in common and it is thought that the proposed union will bring about a strong club at the West end. As it now is, the West End Commercial club has been inactive and the other organizations at the West end have accomplished but little this summer. At its meeting Friday evening, the Sixth Ward Business club will take up the matter of grading Fifth street between Nineteenth and Piedmont avenues. This matter has been agitated a long time and there are many who favor the proposed improvement. Several other matters affecting the hillside district will also be taken up.

PASTOR WILL NOT ACCEPT CALL

Second Presbyterian Congregation Is Still Without a Pastor.

The Second Presbyterian church, 1515 West Superior street, is still looking for a pastor. Rev. E. A. Oldenburg, who was expected to call recently, in a letter to an official of the church yesterday, stated that the members of the East Presbyterian church in St. Paul had urged him to remain as pastor of that church. Since early last December, when Rev. James L. McBride resigned to accept a call at Chicago, the Second Presbyterian church has been without a leader. Several pastors have been extended calls, but as yet none of the invitations have been accepted. Another meeting of the congregation will be held in the near future to decide upon a pastor.

FOOTBALL PROSPECTS

Only Five "D" Men at Central High School This Year.

As the football season approaches there is considerable interest in the prospects for a winning team at the Central high school this fall. The team suffered severe losses by graduation in June. Among the graduates are Captain Bill Stevens, who kept his men continually on the go by his encouraging words and brilliant playing. Lawrence Boyle, the star half back; Ernest Merritt, halfback; Russell Smith, center; and Arthur Helmer, guard. The loss of Quarterback James Kelly, who will attend Mercerburg, and the loss of tackle, and Harold Fetham, end, left school last year and will not be in the lineup this fall.

Although only five "D" men will be back here at the position of second team material and many new men to draw upon. Much is expected of the line this fall. Captain Roy Johnson, who is tipping the scales at 174, will hold down one of the tackle positions. Henry Nott, who played tackle on the Gahland team, will play tackle on the Central team. He is expected to make a strong bid for a tackle position. The other candidates for the tackle position are: Ed Kelly, the catcher of the High School baseball team, and Edward O'Brien. Both of these players are great games on the victorious sophomore team.

At the guard positions Mortimer Dondy, a senior, is expected to hold down one side of the line. Oscar Solheim, a member of the crack basketball team, is expected to play guard for the other position, although George King, Arthur Osman and Harold Hancock, all husky men, will make the others go some to hold their positions.

Ben Nelson, last year's plucky guard, will probably be shifted to center, because of his ability at backing up the line.

At end Bob May, who played a great game at the position last year, will have an excellent running mate in "Dutch" Jeronimus, leading player in star game on the second team. "Dutch" captured the sophomore team. The other candidates for the end are Matt Brown and Jack Boden.

In the back field Ralph Waldron, who did the punting and figured in many forward passes last fall, is the only man who will be back. Claude Ryan, who attended Notre Dame last fall, and Higgins, another new man, both intend to try for the halfback positions. A veteran is expected to hold down one side of the line. Oscar Solheim, a member of the crack basketball team, is expected to play guard for the other position, although George King, Arthur Osman and Harold Hancock, all husky men, will make the others go some to hold their positions.

Lloyd Le Due is the only man who has stated his intention of trying for fullback. Le Due is a senior and will probably land the position.

Allan Johnson, the tackle, who was picked for the position last year, is expected to be back. He is expected to be back. He is expected to be back.

The position of quarter is left open by the absence of James Kelly. Morrison Harris, forward on the high school basketball team, John Hancock, who played quarter on the freshman team, and Joe Boyle are out for this position.

The coach hasn't been decided upon as yet, but it is hoped that Chauncey Colton will assume the position of coach.

On account of the changes in the rules practice will begin the first day of school so that the players will have a chance to learn the new rules in the early part of the season.

The present situation is more promising than it was a year ago and with an early start and a wealth of material the school is expected to turn out a first team before the season is blown for the first game.

COPPER MARKET IN SAME OLD RUT

The copper market fluctuated within a narrow range today and there was little news to affect the market either way. Trading was extremely light both here and in the East. There was no public activity in the market and the trading was small on account of the approaching holidays. The stock exchanges at New York and London were closed from Friday afternoon to Monday morning.

The opening was firm and after a slight advance values sagged but toward the close there was a reaction which carried values up and the market closed a shade higher than yesterday.

The trading was very light. On every advance there is a good supply of stocks and the market is being held in check. The outlook is simply for a scalping market. It does not appear as if the market will advance except possibly in a few specialties and there is no indication of a pronounced decline.

The market is in a rut and the technical position is very tight. The force part of the week, as there has been some covering by shorts in the last three days.

Nearly sold a PUBLIC STREET

The condemnation proceedings by the Duluth, Missabe & Northern Railroad company which have been going on for some days past at the court-house, have been postponed until more authentic witnesses can be secured.

The company seeks to condemn a strip of land running through four lots. Bryan O'Rourke of Hibbing was on the stand this morning as an expert witness. He stated that there were no damages for a cut of from four to twelve feet made by the railroad company. He said the cut would not be made until the company had been paid for the land.

It developed in the course of the testimony that he had recently platted and sold four lots of land, one of which the company sought to condemn. It was also found that he had almost sold the town of Stuntz a strip of land sixty-six feet wide for a road. It really was one of the streets in the land he had platted. The town authorities intervened in time to save the town.

The Boston News Bureau wired Paine, Webber & Co.: "Owing to the

You can absolutely rely on every diamond in our stock being right in every respect. Buying largely before the increase enables us to save you money on them now."

September wheat advanced 3/4¢, December country wheat advanced 1/2¢, cash wheat was on a parity with the September contract. Oats gained 1¢, rye and barley closed unchanged and durum gained 1/2¢. Flax was dull with a stronger September contract gained 1/2¢, October 1 1/2¢, November 1 1/2¢ and December 1 1/2¢.

A favorable tone was communicated to the market by reports of small export business in Manitoba and foreign trade in winter wheat flour. There was an absence of pressure as the market advanced from the low levels reached shortly after the weak opening. September was not as strong as the market was fairly active although the demand on the part of the export trade was not as strong as in the early part of the month. The attention of the bulls.
